PRICE SEVEN CENTS

A LONG WAY UP—Repairs and painting of the steeple of historic Old Dutch Church began Wednesday afternoon when a rigger of Hudson Valley Lightning Protection Corp., Newburgh (speck near top of steeple) made an inspection trip. George Cummings, a master rigger worked his way to the top 217 feet by means of rope stirrups which he slings around the steeple on each move. The firm specializes in work on high structures. Cummings, formerly of Ontario, Canada, resides in Goshen. The Old Dutch steeple will be stained and repaired in various locations and a new lightning rod system will be installed. The clock will be repaired and gold-leafed. (Freeman photo by Kruh).

Among 64 So Honored in Nation

Certificates Go to 3 For Saving Boy's Life

Three Phoenicia Boy Scouts were awarded Certificates of Merit Wednesday night for quick-thinking and courageous action which saved another boy's life last October 15. The boys, all members of Troop 60, Ontario Trail District of the Rip Van Winkle Council, were presented the awards at a ceremony held at the Phoenicia Elementary School.

The Mountain Area Court of Honor of the Boy Scouts made the presentation and Gifford R. Beal, president of the Rip Van Winkle Council, who had announced Monday that the area presentation was to be made, was on hand to personally present the certificates.

The three Scouts honored were:

Dennis Gale, 13; Keith Keator, 13 and Henry Bernstein Jr., 15.

Rare, Unusual Honor

The three Phoenicia Scouts were among only 64 across the nation who were singled out to receive honors for courage and knowledge in handling themselves in emergencies. How very rare and unusual this is pointed out by the fact that more than 4,000,000 boys in the United States are actively engaged in scouting.

On May 20, the National Court of Honor reported to the National Executive Board of the BSA, at a National Council annual meeting in Dallas, Tex., that the boys would receive the certificates, and requested the Court of Honor of the Ontario Trail District to make the presentation. This district covers the towns of Shandaken, Olive, Woodstock and West Hurley.

The emergency for which they were cited occurred last Oct. 15 in a remote mountainous area near Spruett, Donald Gale, 11, was riding his bicycle across a wooden bridge when the front wheel wedged in a crack in the bridge planking. Gale was thrown off the bridge and into the rocky creek swollen by autumn rains, 10 feet below. He injured his skull in the fall and was knocked unconscious. Scouts Henry Bernstein Jr., 15; Dennis Gale, 13, and Keith Keator, 13, pulled him out and brought him to with artificial respiration; then expertly treated him for shock.

Treat Victim, Go for Help

One of the boys ran to a house a mile away to call a doctor. Then the Scouts made a stretcher and helped carry the injured Gale to a station wagon, which took him to a hospital.

The citation on the certificate reads:

As Donald Gale, eleven, rode his bicycle across a wooden bridge on a wilderness trail in a mountainous secluded area near Spruett, New York, on October 15, 1965, his front wheel slipped into a crack and he was

Praises Naming Prison Synagogue For Rabbi Bloom

Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson of Ulster County today paid tribute to the New York Board of Rabbis for the high honor they will bestow on the memory of one of Kingston's leading citizens, Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom, dedicating the Wallkill Prison Synagogue in honor of the late Rabbi Bloom.

Called Most Fitting

The Ulster County Assemblyman said it was most fitting to dedicate the Synagogue at the Ulster County prison in memory of Rabbi Bloom, since the great humanitarian had devoted 27 years of his life as the Jewish chaplain at Wallkill Prison, and during that time had brought much hope and comfort, not only to the members of the Jewish Faith at the prison but to all of the other inmates as well.

Assemblyman Wilson also said that Rabbi Bloom had devoted

Viet Troops Deployed To Protect U.S. Offices

HUE, Viet Nam (AP) — A battalion of South Vietnamese army troops moved into Hue tonight to protect the U.S. consulate and three other American buildings in the city.

There had been no government troops in Hue, where anti-American demonstrators attacked the U.S. Information Service office earlier in the day, set fire to the building and turned books, shelves and tables.

The building was closed and no Americans were injured.

In Full Gear

The battalion of 500 government troops carried full battle gear.

After the student attack on the U.S.I.S. building, rumors spread that the students would march on the consulate tonight or Friday.

The mob attacked the modern, two-story building after Buddhist leaders at a protest funeral march by thousands assailed the United States for supporting Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's military regime.

Though the government has ruled out the use of force against Hue dissidents, a battalion of 500 Vietnamese troops moved in tonight to protect the U.S. consulate and other American buildings and a Voice of America radio relay station on the outskirts.

Action at Standstill

On the war front, ground action was reported at a near standstill and U.S. B52 bombers led the offensive with attacks on four Viet Cong areas. The war scene was dominated by the report of casualties last week, which said the number of allied battle dead more than doubled and the number of U.S. casualties—146 killed and 820 wounded—was the highest for any week of the war. The previous casualty high—240 killed and 470 wounded—came last November during the fighting in the Ia Drang Valley.

A military spokesman said the high toll was the result of the numerous battalion size actions during the week rather than any one major engagement.

"There were more battalions in the field than ever before," he said.

The allied dead totaled 386 last week, compared with 161 the week before. Spokesmen reported 1,235 Communists killed, a rise of 25 per cent over the 998 the week before.

In Hue, smoke belched from the U.S.I.S. building as the flames consumed books, bookshelves and library tables.

About 200 students attacked first with rocks, shattering virtually every window in the

'Serious Consideration' Due

Brydges Offers Hint Of Medic-Care Changes

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Legislature's top-ranking Republican says "serious consideration" will be given to proposals for changing the state's new medical-care program.

Senate Majority Leader Earl W. Brydges offered that prospect Wednesday after a Senate Assembly study committee completed a two-day public hearing on possible revisions in the program.

Group Meets Friday

The committee plans to meet Friday in New York City to consider revisions suggested by testimony presented at its exhaustive hearing in Albany.

The chances of major revisions appear slim, however, because the Legislature's top Democrat, Assembly Speaker Anthony J. Travia, has indicated he favors giving the program a trial period before considering large-scale adjustments.

Travia has said he would not object to amendment if the law has serious flaws. The speaker said Wednesday he would withhold his decision pending further information.

Sen. Norman E. Lent, chairman of the legislative committee set up to study the impact of the law, says several areas will be considered with a view toward possible revision. They include:

— A provision that would establish some sort of "deductible" coverage. This means that potential recipients of governmental financial aid to pay medical bills would be responsible for covering a specified initial amount of yearly medical expenses.

A section designed to encourage possible recipients to retain private or group health insurance plans. This would be aimed at preventing persons from dropping health plans on the ground that they would re-

Urge Polio Shots For All Residents Not Immunized

With the coming of the summer season, William A. Kelly, chairman, and Meyer Kaplan, vice chairman of the Ulster County Chapter of the National Poliomyelitis Foundation, (March of Dimes) urged every person, child or adult, who has not been immunized by having the polio vaccine, to get their polio shots.

It was recommended that people go to their own private physician. It was also suggested that those who are financially unable to do this, arrange to visit one of the County Health Department clinics.

The following letter from the County Health Department was released in the Chapter's continuing program of informing the people as to where March of Dimes funds go:

"Mr. Meyer Kaplan, vice chairman, Ulster County Chapter, National Poliomyelitis Foundation, 136 Lucas Avenue, Kingston. Once again I wish to take this opportunity on behalf of the

Many Industries, Individuals Are To Participate

Mass response was indicated today to a public hearing on air pollution called by Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick (D-Ellenville) for all interested parties in the 28th Congressional District encompassing Ulster, Greene, Columbia and Dutchess Counties.

Believed Unprecedented

The public hearing — believed unprecedented on the Congressional District level — is scheduled for 9:30 a. m. Monday, June 6, in the Ulster County Board of Supervisors Chambers in the County Office Building.

John Logan, administrative assistant to Congressman Resnick in Kingston, told The Freeman that notices of acceptance to attend and participate in the hearing have been received by numerous persons and individuals representing fields of industry, health, public office and other interested parties.

Logan said that notices of acceptance have been received from area industries including Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp., Nytraltite, Colonial Sand & Gravel and operators of the Hudson Cement Corp. in Kingston; the last-named being a target of sharp criticism in both East Kingston and the Town of Ulster over dust settlement, air pollution and other complaints attendant to the nature of its operations.

Direct Invitations

Logan told The Freeman that about 75 direct invitations were sent out from Congressman Resnick's office and that among others indicated an intention to attend were representatives from the Federal Public Health Service and health department officials from Greene, Columbia and Dutchess Counties, as well as officials from the Rhinebeck area, where complaints have been registered concerning the drifting of dust from the Kingston side of the Hudson River westward to the Dutchess County side.

The Freeman also learned that among those planning to Safian, medical director of United Medical Services, Inc.; Donald Landsdowne, regional director of New York's H.E.W. Division under the Social Security Agency; Commissioner Joseph Fitzsimmons and Miss Rosemary Feeney of the Ulster County Welfare Department.

Dr. Safian spoke on some of the administrative procedures, which will be required once Medicare goes into effect: July 1, U.M.S. has been selected by the government as a carrier for Medicare payments to doctors in 16 Upstate counties, including Ulster. Questions were asked

Safety Council Urges Extreme Caution

Fear Traffic Deaths of 460-540 As Long Memorial Weekend Nears

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Want to stay alive?

Several hundred Americans will die in highway accidents during the long Memorial Day weekend. Thousands will be injured many permanently crippled.

The National Safety Council estimates that the death toll alone will be between 460 and 540. And the vast majority of serious crashes involving two or more cars will occur in one of six common road situations.

The Associated Press in cooperation with the council has devised a simple test which helps spell out what action you should take when these collision-prone situations develop.

Here's how it works:

First look at the pictures showing the six most common situations in which accidents occur.

Second read the description of the situation.

Finally choose the best course of action from those listed.

Situation No. 1—You're following another car in a stream of traffic. The driver ahead of you stops suddenly. You jam on your brakes too late to prevent a crash. The chances for this collision taking place could have been lessened by:

A—Always driving 100 feet behind the car in front of you.

B—Blowing your horn and pumping your brakes.

C—Veering sharply into the oncoming lane.

D—Maintaining one car length for each 10 miles of speed thus providing sufficient room for a safe emergency stop.

Situation No. 2—You're out front with someone following

Dear Abby . . .

Happiness Not the Same for All

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What is wrong with a woman who will let a man walk all over her? My neighbor has married the same man TWICE. They are divorced now, and like a fool, she is considering marrying him again. They don't have any children to stay together for. She doesn't need a man to support her as she makes more than he does.

He treats her like dirt. If you can tell me what she needs this good for nothing, arrogant, two-timer for, you are a genius.

"THE ONE SHE CRIES ON"

DEAR ONE: I can't tell you, but you can take my word for it, she needs him for something. Even if it's only to "punish" her. To each his own. Some people's idea of happiness is having to "suffer" for. It's a pathological quirk.

DEAR ABBY: What is your opinion of a person who is constantly correcting others in public about the pronunciation of words and their use? All involved in this situation are adults. Thank you.

CORRECTED

DEAR CORRECTED: The constant corrector is showing his ignorance. It is infinitely more important to be KIND than correct.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "MAKING THE BEST OF IT": If you can't bring yourself to discuss such an intimate problem with your doctor, clergyman or a marriage counselor, run, do not walk, to your nearest book store and get "A DOCTOR SPEAKS ON SEXUAL EXPRESSION IN MARRIAGE" by D. Charge Marquette Violated Action Acquiring Firm

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission charges the Marquette Cement Manufacturing Co. of Chicago with acquiring a Tarrytown N. Y. ready-mixed concrete company in violation of the Clayton Antitrust Act.

The commission said Wednesday the acquisition of Cooney Bros Inc. on Nov. 16 1964 was made through Marquette's wholly owned subsidiary Lawrence Concrete Co.

The commission complaint said that the effect of the purchase may be to lessen competition substantially or tend to create a monopoly in the manufacture and sale of portland cement and ready-mixed cement.

Says New State Medic-Aid Plan Will Cost Less

New York State's new Medical Assistance Act should result in a substantial decrease in local expenditures for medically needy residents, primarily in New York City, State Social Welfare Commissioner George K. Wyman testified today.

Appearing as an early witness at a hearing conducted by a Special Legislative Committee on Public Health and Medical Care, Commissioner Wyman replied directly to criticisms concerning the cost and scope of the program.

Aid in New York Since 1929
He told the committee headed by Sen. Norman F. Lent (R-Nassau) that the concept of medical assistance has been in effective operation in New York State since 1929. The present legislation provides for extension of existing services to many new persons through use of Federal funds.

The welfare commissioner said that the State expended $449-million for medical care in 1965, of which only $78.5 million was reimbursed by the Federal Government. Conversely, he estimated, the new Medicaid program would cost $532 million for fiscal 1966-67, but Federal reimbursement would be almost triple. Commissioner Wyman set the estimated reimbursement figure at $217.3 million. Commissioner Wyman said about eight million persons would have potential eligibility for assistance under the program. However, he explained, actual recipients would number about two million persons during fiscal 1966-67, as contrasted to the 1.5 million receiving aid during 1965.

Referring to decreased local costs, the commissioner said the Seaman Apprentice Charles Bonomo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Bonomo, 145 Foxhall Avenue, is now in Pearl Harbor stationed aboard the USS Gurke, a destroyer. The Gurke will leave for Viet Nam shortly for off-shore patrol duties.

State's expenditures would decline slightly, to an estimated $170.5 million. Local government expenditures, he estimated, would be $144.4 million, a decrease of nearly $54 million in the first year.

Eligibility Standards

With respect to eligibility standards announced by the State Board of Social Welfare, Chairman Hugh R. Jones told the committee they must "be considered from the viewpoint of "the credit economy in which we live." The Board-approved levels, he said, "do not mean that this is the amount of cash available to these families. Rather, it must be remembered that many have mortgages on their homes, payments to meet on the cars they need to get them to and from work; payments for house furnishings; clothing; and all of the numerous individually small but cumulatively nagging debts of every-day existence."

Dairy Farmers Ask Increase On Milk Prices

Spurred by the threat of milk shortages, four major dairy cooperatives representing 25,000 Northeastern dairy farmers yesterday urged the Department of Agriculture to take action to increase milk prices to producers.

In a telegram to Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman, the cooperatives substantiated their request for higher prices with statistics showing the decline in production and producer numbers which have consistently recorded the past several months. The four cooperatives are the Dairy Farmers' League Cooperative Association, Inc., N. Y.; Eastern Milk Producers Cooperative Association, Syracuse; Northeast Dairy Cooperative Federation, Inc., Syracuse; and United Milk Producers Cooperative Association of New Jersey, Trenton, N. J.

They urged an emergency Class I price hearing, to permit the co-ops to present their arguments for a 45-cent Class I price increase under the New York-New Jersey Federal Milk Marketing Order, effective July 1, 1966 through March 1967.

The telegram added, however, that the co-ops consider the emergency action minimal, and to be maintained only until permanent amendments can be provided.

Also action to prevent a proposed increase in the cheddar cheese import quota of 5.5 million pounds during the next fiscal year. (The telegram noted the price-deflating effect of similar action taken March 31. Despite a 26-cent increase in support prices, producers' prices dropped from March to April.)

If cooperatives' requests are granted, it would mean an immediate increase in producer

Children Give Marines Help and Harassment

SAIGON (AP) — Vietnamese children gave the U.S. Marines both help and harassment Wednesday.

One child probably saved the lives of a Leatherneck patrol as it approached a village near Da Nang.

The child ran up to the patrol and told it the entrance gate to the village was booby-trapped with five pounds of TNT. The Marines fired a grenade and set off the explosives.

In another incident reported to the U.S. Command, communists tossed a five-foot poisonous snake into a truck of a Marine convoy six miles northwest of Chu Lai.

The snake was coiled around the end of a long bamboo pole. The Marines quickly kicked the snake out, the communique said.

prices of some 35 cents a hundred-weight. In July, for example, from a present estimated $4.50 a cwt. to $4.73; August, $4.78 to $5.03; and September, $4.94 to $5.20.

Commenting on the cooperative's request, Dairy Farmers' League President Lester W. Martin, Milford dairy farmer, stated that the present estimates indicate that about 119 billion pounds of milk, some six billion less than the previous year, will be produced in the nation in 1966.

Further predictions, Martin said, are that by 1980—even allowing for a drop in per capita consumption—a total annual production of 139 billion pounds will be needed to meet the nation's needs.

To meet this demand, dairy-men would have to increase milk production during the next 15 years at twice the rate they increased during the past 15 years.

PARIS (AP) — "Imagine dear, sweet Melanie banned in Britain!" exclaimed Olivia de Havilland in mock horror.

Melanie, of course, was the saccharine belle of "Gone With the Wind," which Miss de Havilland played with remarkable skill in 1939.

In more recent times she appeared in "Lady in a Cage," a Gothic tale of such horror that the British censor refused to allow it to be shown in the isles. The British are more alarmed by violence than by sex in films; the reverse is true in America.

Has No Regrets

"I have absolutely no regrets about doing the picture," said Olivia. "I thought it was a testament against senseless violence, and I was happy that the French critics agreed. In fact, they raved so much about it that the film was booked into the London Film Festival; it will apparently be the only time 'Lady in a Cage' will play in England."

The actress was commenting over tea in her house on Rue de Benouville near the heart of Paris. She fits gracefully into the Parisian life, although she was born in Tokyo of English parents and spent most of her girlhood and acting career in America.

She moved to Paris nine years ago, when she married magazine editor Pierre Gallante. The marriage appears to have hit and impace, but she continues her residence here.

It has been more than a year since Olivia made her last film. She has averaged a film a year in recent times.

Wants to Work

"And now the time is getting critical," she said. "I've started working on my needlepoint house so that everyone wishes I again, and I'm painting two canvases. I battle about the turn refreshed."

LOCAL BURGLARIES

The rising volume of burglaries in Kingston and the surrounding area calls for extra precaution upon the part of home owners and the business community.

Juveniles are responsible for many of these burglaries and despite their apprehension we seem incapable of stopping them. An enlarged police force is not the answer for police cannot be everywhere in the city and towns. The proper punishment meted out to those found guilty — juveniles and adults alike — would prove a deterrent.

With the arrival of warm weather when screens are used in doors and windows, the opportunity for thieves to enter places are multiplied.

The increase in protection of life and property and the feeling of peace of mind have come with well lighted streets. Sudden loud noises alarm and unnerve thieves. Some inventive concern should come up with a device of this kind that would better protect innocent victims of burglaries.

FEWER ALTERNATIVES

This country is rapidly running out of alternatives in Viet Nam.

Twenty-one months ago, air strikes against North Vietnamese patrol boat bases in retaliation for attacks on U. S. ships in the Gulf of Tonkin were considered a drastic but necessary step to convince Hanoi of our commitment to the defense of South Viet Nam.

Today, almost the whole of North Viet Nam is being subjected to bombings that exceed in tonnages those on Germany in World War II, and are rising.

Almost exactly a year ago, the arrival of the first U. S. Army ground unit, which brought our total forces up to 42,000 men, served notice on the Viet Cong that they would have to deal not only with South Vietnamese military strength but with our own.

Today, that manpower total is in the neighborhood of 250,000, and rising.

Eleven months ago, President Johnson authorized the use of American troops in direct combat against the Viet Cong if such assistance were requested by the South Vietnamese army.

Today, American casualties have twice in a month exceeded those of the South Vietnamese.

In December 1964, we announced a step-up of military and economic aid to South Viet Nam as a gesture of support for the regime of somebody called Premier Tran Van Huong.

Today, this nation is expending $1-billion a month on the prosecution of the war in Viet Nam — 30 times the figure a year and a half ago.

And through it all, the North Vietnamese have remained unconvinced. They have been punished severely, but we seem to be suffering the effects of the law of diminishing returns.

It is not a recital to engender optimism. Yet even when viewed with the clarity of hindsight, it is difficult to see how it could have been otherwise.

The failure to take any of these steps, even if the result had not been early Communist engulfment of all Viet Nam, would have laid the President open to charges of appeasement, misjudgment and viciation.

A year ago, no one — in or out of government — possessed the clairvoyance to be able to predict that despite these massive efforts, and despite such things as bombing pauses and tenders for negotiations, an end to the war would remain as distant as ever.

But the record of the past year or two should be kept in mind when voices call for us to use up our last remaining feasible military alternatives, the bombing of Hanoi and the harbor of Haiphong. What comes after that — actual invasion of North Viet Nam?

MONEY FAMINE
IN THE MIST OF A MONEY FEAST

It has become an article of faith that there is a "money squeeze" in the economy. Senator Vance Hartke of Indiana talks about it and worries about it. And, if you are looking for mortgage money to buy a house, you will quickly discover that the money shortage can be a grim reality. The bank won't deal with you unless you are prepared to put up twenty-five per cent of the purchase price and you are willing to pay 6.5 per cent interest on the borrowed remainder.

Yet, strangely enough, the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis reports in its monthly review for May, 1966, that "monetary expansion continues." We are told that "federal reserve credit, member bank reserves and the money supply have increased at extremely rapid rates since last summer." The accompanying tables printed in the bank letter show the money supply rising from 160 billion dollars in January of 1965 to 171.1 billion in April of 1966. So, as the St. Louis Federal Reserve says, "the impression of restriction (in the money supply) may prove to be an illusion."

Why, then, should interest rates be rising? On the surface it doesn't make sense to an economic layman. One explanation could be that, with new money being constantly injected into the economy, the percentage of it going into the purchase of consumption goods in order to beat coming price increases is depriving the lending market of liquid funds for investment. Another explanation might be that lenders expect money to be worth less a year or so from now, and are therefore insisting on higher interest rates in order to protect themselves against the depreciation of their lending capital.

Whatever the explanation may be, the fact that the money supply is constantly increasing pinpoints government responsibility for both the inflation of prices and the high borrowing rates that are presumably the reason for the "illusion" of a money squeeze. The cure would seem to be the classical one: let the government cease inflating the money supply. Then the extra money would not be there to chase a limited supply of goods. Prices would consequently fall, and interest rates would come down.

What the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis Review suggests is that President Johnson's economic advisors are prolific with cart-before-the-horse thinking. Everything gets turned upside down along the Potomac. High prices are condemned as the cause of inflation, not accepted as the result. And the effort to take some of the steam out of the boom by asking businessmen to make voluntary cuts in capital spending is just as misplaced as the attempt to halt the price rise by appealing to merchants not to take advantage of the fact that consumers have more money in their pockets.

The fact is that much of American industry is up against international competition, and must continue to cut its costs of manufacture in order to outsell the Japanese, the Belgians, and the Luxembourgers. Since American labor is loath to take wage cuts, and since there is a premium on many types of raw materials, the only feasible way of cutting costs of production is to continue to spend money for more efficient capital equipment. So what businesses can afford to curb their outlays for new and better and more automated machinery?

The steel industry, for example, is finding it impossible now to produce nails and wire that will undersell foreign steel makers in their own markets. And if nails and wire are vulnerable today, structural and sheet steel will be vulnerable tomorrow. So steel must work incessantly to improve its productive machinery, which means putting up more money for capital outlay. There can be temporary cutbacks in capital spending, but it would be suicidal to continue holding back for very long.

Until the cart-before-the-horse thinking along the Potomac is changed, we shall continue to get both higher prices and higher interest rates. The only cure for the present troubles is a cutback in the government spending that continues to flush the money supply beyond the capability of our manufacturers to create enough goods to satisfy the swollen demand.

New Methods Revealing
Many "Hidden Diabetics"

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Interest in diabetes has been steadily increasing as new methods for early detection of this disease are revealing many new cases. It is estimated that at least two million persons in the United States have diabetes that has not yet been diagnosed.

Some communities are conducting screening programs to find these "hidden diabetics." In one area, 34 new cases were found in every 1,000 persons tested as compared with an average of 8.6 in other areas. This was accomplished by concentrating on high-risk groups such as relatives of known diabetics, women who have borne babies weighing more than 10 pounds at birth, persons who are more than 10 per cent over the normal weight for their height and persons who are over 60.

In this area the screening program was widely publicized and a free test for the blood sugar level was offered. No one was labeled a new case of diabetes until his family doctor had confirmed the diagnosis.

Early detection coupled with proper treatment is an important means of preventing serious complications of this disease such as blindness, gangrene of the toes, neuritis and coma.

Q—I have only one kidney and it is not too good. I also have high blood pressure. My doctor has given me many kinds of water pills but they all aggravate my gouty arthritis. For the gout I take colchicine which in turn causes severe diarrhea. To cure this I take paregoric. I feel like I'm riding a medicinal merry-go-round. What do you advise?

A—A large group of thiazides are now widely used as diuretics. They will not cause gout but they will aggravate it. If your joint pains cannot be controlled by reducing the dosage of this type of water pill, you might try spironolactone, or triamterene. These are obtainable only on a doctor's prescription.

The modern drug for gout is probenecid. It should not cause diarrhea but this or any other drug you might take could have unpleasant side effects unless the dosage is carefully adjusted to your needs.

Q—Is Triavil habit-forming? Are there any bad side effects?

A—Side effects from this tranquilizer are rare but may include eczema, shortness of breath, waterlogging and convulsions. Anyone who is taking this drug should have periodic blood counts and liver function tests. It is not habit forming.

great advances will be made in the field of preventive medicine.

A further hint of this is to be found in the results of a study reported in a journal of the American Heart Association. The study indicates that certain factors may enable doctors to tell long in advance whether young men are likely to have heart attacks in later years. Preventive action could then be taken.

These findings are tentative. Much additional research must be undertaken. But the important thing is that here, as in other areas, medical science is moving toward prevention rather than cure alone. The trend offers great promise.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — A massive breakthrough for Negroes on the job front is in the planning stage in this country.

Plans in sweeping array are boiling up in and around the civil rights movement and will soon surface. If even just a fair proportion are translated into early action, the movement will gain the new direction and the force it has needed since protest demonstrations began last year to yield diminishing returns.

This reporter's private access to these groundbreaking ideas reveals them to be tremendous in number. Here only a handful of the most striking can be laid out.

● Planners want employers to tailor at least some of their job opportunities to fit the existing attributes of Negroes who classified as hard-core unemployed.

This is a revolutionary turnaround. Up to now the whole stress has been on training jobless or underemployed Negroes up to the level of skills required in a U. S. economy that increasingly is shunning off low-skill or menial tasks.

This new notion amounts to telling employers:

"There are thousands of job-hungry Negroes who today cannot qualify for the growing number of high-skill jobs. They cannot wait for work while they learn. We call upon you to redesign your job patterns so they can be hired as they are."

● The urgency that runs through this idea colors virtually every planning thought now being developed for the Negro job front.

The American people are about to be asked, by many white and Negro leaders alike, to treat the incredibly bad Negro employment situation as a continuing national emergency demanding extraordinary undertakings — from this moment on — by business, labor unions, churches, civic and social organizations, government at all levels.

About 12 per cent of the working age Negro population is estimated to be either without work or underemployed. The resulting restlessness and tension make volcanoes of the U. S. Cities where that population is heavily clustered in 1966.

● In keeping with the "emergency" approach, planners are preparing to ask their countrymen that piece meal assaults on the job problem be scrapped, that new organizations be set up to provide a co-ordinated, "round-the-calendar" attack enlisting the national energies on a kind of "domestic war" footing.

Cast into the most human terms, they want to see untrained, undertrained, discriminated-against Negroes made the object of relentless, continuing personal attention by every major element in American society.

The planners want this attention to go beyond training — or reshaping the job market to take in the untrained. They want it to include incentive programs to combat the outside handicaps of family, home, cultural and other problems which plague many job-seeking Negroes.

And for all of this they want a hard payoff — specific jobs promised and delivered to Negroes by the tens of thousands.

Private word has it that part of the business community is getting ready to jump into this new arena on a sizeable scale. Many business firms already have taken on a cooperative role in unfolding Great Society programs.

The most responsible civil rights planners are not openly muttering threats of "another Watts" to be visited upon the nation if it does not take up the huge endeavors they will soon call for.

Threats are not needed. From New York to Los Angeles, the rumbling of the volcanoes can be heard by all.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

sent me an interesting item from the National Observer of May 16, 1966. When Commander Humphrey was in Kingston we visited, and he left me some interesting postal cards which I put in an album. The article is called Art of Deltiology, which it seems, means postal card collecting. These people sell, or just admire cards or albums of cards. It so happens that just the other day, Joseph Hudela showed me a large album of fabulous cards, some Detroit, Ullmans, pages of imported cards, also of pets, cats, dogs, horses and ships and one of the Mary Powell.

The article describes such cards as Mr. Hudela owns, and many of them are dated in the early 1900's, like the 21 in a set of local cards I have of streets of Kingston, showing very early automobiles. I still have a few sets left with a sheet of historic information I compiled. The article in the National Observer is by Paul Kagan and tells about visiting the Metropolitan Postcard Collector's Club in New York City, which meets the first Friday of every month, which brings out some 100 members. They wander about the tables, where thousands of cards are on display, and there exchange or sell or buy.

I had visitors only recently from this club, Mr. and Mrs. Vogt, who told me what a pleasure it was going to this lively club. This club had some 104 active members four years ago, and now has 404. It is said, there are 50,000 people collecting cards across the country. I know from time to time I receive letters asking me for postal cards of old stone houses of Kingston, or pictures of the post office when it was newly built, or the railroad depot, or fire station showing the horses, which I still have. There is a call for trolley-car pictures and boat pictures.

In Kingston, I find that everyone seems to be looking for postal cards of Kingston Point, and the boat docking there, and pictures of the Mary Powell and Skillyput. Some of these I have in my collection but they are one of a kind. Now the World's Fair cards are being saved, and they are only recent. The article tells about H. Allyn Wright and his son, Allen, owners of Hobbyville, a stamp and card collecting company in New York, which cornered the market by buying the remaining stock of World's Fair cards from the Manhattan Postcard Co., who had the sole license for printing them. The Wrights have 25,000 of these cards, and sell them on an average of 15 cents each. There were some "illegal printed cards" of the Fair, and "ordered destroyed by court order and these can be had also, what is left of them."

Those who save old cards, if they are in sets, like the 10 cards from the Columbian Exposition now are worth a few dollars. I know Mr. Matthews has a number of the Hudson-Fulton celebration, and these are asked for now. Collectors look for cards from the Lewis & Clark Expedition at Portland, Ore. in 1792 and these bring a price. The Jamestown Tercentenary Exposition of 1907 are also wanted. Some collectors want cards printed by certain publishers like Tuck cards, or Detroit. In 1940, it seems color printing became so popular. In 1946, a Los Angeles newspaperman, the late Bob Hendricks, put out a monthly paper with names of collectors he knew and that began the serious card collecting. Some started as stamp collectors, like Mr. Nardone, founder of the club. One collector started to frame old cards and an antique dealer said they would be saleable, so a framed card with the back open as well as the front so picture, message and postmark can be seen is called "Cardtique."

There are approximately 50,000 pure Indians in Panama today.

Search for Better Formula Begun

Wage-Price Guidelines Face Alterations or Scrap Heap

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration's wage-price guidelines may be headed for extensive alterations or the scrap heap.

That's the judgment of some labor-management relations experts who have good administration contacts.

Can't Document Opinions

Their opinions cannot be documented officially because the Johnson administration, until it has a better stabilization device to offer as a substitute, is bound to insist 3.2 per cent is now and ever shall be a reasonable, fair and noninflationary wage increase.

Nevertheless the search for a better device or a revised formula has begun. That's the job for which President Johnson recently revived the Labor-Management Advisory Committee. He asked its advice on how to "cope with the threat of inflation in an expanding economy."

Labor has repudiated the "voluntary" guideposts. In effect the guidelines impose a ceiling only on workers' wages, the unions say, while allowing price and corporation profits to soar. And some labor relations experts hold that a guideline policy which might work in a slack economy is unlikely to work in a full employment economy.

Can a better but still voluntary way be found — one acceptable to both labor and management?

To Report Progress

Some clue may come June 3, when the 21-member committee — seven members each from industry, labor and the public — holds its second meeting in the offices of Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, the chairman.

A six-member working subcommittee — two leaders from each of the three sides — then will report on progress. They could come in empty-handed. Conceivably, they might even reject the present guidelines are the best approach, they can think of.

Unseen, Influential Six

But there are indications hard, sincere effort is being poured into the search by the unseen but influential six. Only the labor pair has been identified. They are AFL-CIO President George Meany and United Steelworkers President I. W. Abel. Presumably the management men have equal stature in industry; if they come up with an idea, they will be listened to.

Perhaps Meany and Abel will be the two men hardest to satisfy. Labor has come to feel it was sold an unintentional bill of goods when President John F. Kennedy posted the guideposts. Disillusionment came quickly. The steelworkers signed a settlement called "noninflationary" but the steel firms promptly raised their prices.

That set off the 1962 battle between Kennedy and Big Steel. The price hike was rescinded and industry leaders denounced the guidelines. Nobody loved them, but the expanding economy stayed stable for four years. Now, in the fifth year of an unprecedented five-year boom, things have heated up. The price creep has become a trot and profits have set records.

As the guidelines have come to be interpreted, the gains in worker productivity over the past five years should have led to a wage guideline increase from 3.2 per cent to 3.6 per cent this year.

Sticks to Old Formula

But the White House is sticking to the 3.2 formula, even as the Labor Department reports the real spendable earnings of factory workers have declined over the past year because of price rises.

So the AFL-CIO has served notice it will henceforth for everything it can get, unless there is assurance of some effective restraint on prices and profits. That poses the threat of a real price-wage spiral unless the labor-management advisers bring in some bright ideas soon.

Sign First Pact To Divert Farm Land for Leisure

NEWARK, N.Y. (AP) — Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman comes to this Finger Lakes village today to sign the nation's first contract for Green-span — a federal program to help communities convert crop land into recreational areas.

The program, authorized by Congress in 1965, is aimed at shifting crop land not needed for agriculture to recreational and conservation uses on a long-term basis. It is a supplement to the annual commodity programs that divert crop land on a year-to-year basis.

This village of 10,000 population, about half way between Syracuse and Rochester, intends to divert 32 acres into a recreation area that will include a wildlife pond, picnic area, baseball and softball diamonds, ice-skating rink, badminton courts and other sports facilities. A covered pavilion also is planned. The acreage, 29.8 acres of which was used for growing of corn, wheat, barley, beans and hay, was owned by Charles Botcher.

He negotiated with village officials to sell the land at a price that has not been made public. He plans to continue farming on other land he owns. The federal government will pay about one-third of the land costs. This would indicate that Botcher received about $12,800 for the land.

The government also will share in the cost of developing the land. This could amount to approximately $2,900 for such work as grading, landscaping and planting of trees.

Freeman was to sign the agreement with Mayor Milton Elzufon.

Freeman described the Green-span project as a reflection on

Buffalo Jury Convicts Man in '64 Holdup

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — A 27-year-old man was convicted Wednesday night of first-degree robbery in the 1964 Buffalo City Hall holdup in which $299,130 was taken.

After deliberating two hours, a Supreme Court jury of 11 men and one woman delivered its guilty verdict against Pascal Calabrese of nearby North Tonawanda.

Justice Joseph A. Nevins set sentencing for June 17, and remanded Calabrese to Erie County jail without bail.

Police said the armed holdup occurred on Dec. 29 and that $16,000 of the $299,130 taken was cash. The remainder was checks. Calabrese's address is 28 N. Jasella Drive.

Note Ingredients For Memorial Day Picnic Are Ready

NEW YORK (AP) — The ingredients for summer picnics are mounting in the food markets for the Memorial Day weekend. There are chickens, hams, eggs, watermelons.

Broilers are featured as a best buy in most areas. Beef is more plentiful. Egg prices have been dropping for weeks. Tons of watermelons have moved to market, along with increasing supplies of fresh peaches and cherries.

Heavy rains damaged the strawberry crop in Louisiana and delayed the harvest in Tennessee. Losses to the crop in northern and eastern Kentucky were heavy.

The rains also cut the tomato crops in Texas and Indiana.

There have been blight problems with pears in California, and spotty damage to the sweet cherry crop in the Yakima Valley of Washington.

The result has been lagging supplies of produce in many areas.

Tuna fish, catsup, tomato sauce, stewed tomatoes and tomato juice prices may be headed lower on summer promotions, as canners clean out their supplies.

Supplies of canned red salmon are almost four times as large as a year ago, resulting in lower prices.

Beauty Congress Off

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — To seek better television time and to avoid competition with summer tourists, the International Beauty Congress this year has been postponed until 1967.

Congress officials made the announcement Wednesday, after the city council, which provides much of the money for the contest, agreed to amend its contract. The precise date depends upon negotiations for television coverage, the officials said.

The event originated as the Miss Universe Pageant in 1952 and in 1960 became the International Beauty Congress.

In 1271, it took Marco Polo about a year to reach China.

Staff Selected For Tri-Mount Summer Season

The staff for the 1966 season at Camp Tri-Mount, Boy Scouts of America has been selected, and the camp itself is rapidly being readied for occupancy, according to an announcement made this week by Henry P. Eighmey, of Kingston, camping chairman for the Rip Van Winkle Council, BSA. John Vliet of Catskill, a member of the council's executive staff, will serve as camp director for the fourth season.

Ever since the advent of favorable weather, according to Eighmey, work has been progressing on Saturdays, getting things in shape for the arrival of the first campers on July 3rd. There are many, many projects to be completed before opening day, and Scouts from both Ulster and Greene Counties are urged to come up to Camp Tri-Mount on any Saturday, where Mr. Eighmey will be glad to show them where they can "lend a hand" in getting camp ready to open.

Last Saturday, over 40 Scouts and Scouters joined together in a "Good Turn Day" for Camp Tri-Mount. Much was accomplished through the efforts of such a large group working together. Lunch was provided for the workers in the Camp dining hall, under the direction of Walter Tremper of Kingston. He was assisted by Valentine Morrow of Maplecrest and Fred D. Cure of Kingston.

Emphasis is being placed on maturity in the 1966 camp staff, with the addition of a number of adults to the staff roster. The assistant camp director will again this year be Richard Nixdorf, a faculty member of Onteora Central School in Boiceville, and troop committee chairman of Troop 66, West Hurley. Nixdorf is also assuming the responsibilities of program director. The nature director's position is to be filled by Franklin Hayward, a teacher of bio-chemistry in New Boston, N. H. Henry Boucher, also a faculty member at Onteora Central School, is to be rifle range director and camp commissioner.

The waterfront director will be Andrew Angstrom, of Kingston, a senior at the State University of New York College at New Paltz. Angstrom will attend the aquatic section of the National Camping School at Schiff Scout Reservation in Mendham, N. J. in early June. The camp chaplain is to be the Rev. George Wood of Saugerties, recently retired from the full-time ministry with the Reformed Church. It is expected that the position of handicraft director—first aid man will be filled by George Woodworth of East Jewett. Woodworth has a long and distinguished service record in Scouting, particularly with Troop 53 of Tannersville and Troop 55 of East Jewett.

Returning for his seventh consecutive season as camp chef will be the popular James Garland of Albany. It is expected that his assistant cook this year will be Winfield Maben of Ashland. Maben is Scoutmaster of Troop 58 of Ashland. The complete listing of camp staff personnel will be announced at a later date.

Camp Tri-Mount, located at East Jewett, Greene County, is owned and operated by the Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America with headquarters in Kingston.

Report County Progress In Retarded Child Care

The following is an article submitted by the Ulster County Association for Retarded Children Inc.:

One of the most touching of human afflictions is mental retardation. Any number of factors totally unrelated to heredity and environment have been found to be responsible.

For example, through new tests it has been learned that a certain digestive inadequacy and failure to break down foods into their proper components have been responsible for one form of mental retardation. This is only one instance.

But there are still thousands of young children who are doomed to a life narrowed to the most elementary aspects of existence. For these children society has increasingly made plans to ease the pressures of the environment of the children and the family so that both may be spared anguish that was inevitable in less inspired times.

Form Day Teaching Program

In Ulster County, services and facilities to provide a fuller life for the young unfortunate have been initiated under the auspices of the Ulster County Association for Retarded Children Inc. This has taken the form of a day training program. The objectives of this program are to provide organized developmental experiences for mentally retarded persons in the county who are living at home and are not eligible for participation in existing programs.

The program consists of attempts to facilitate home care by developing independence in personal needs, a reduction of social isolation by peer contacts in various activities, stimulating learning experiences and encouraging the use of capacities and abilities to the highest possible degree and the channeling of energies into socially acceptable behavior and goals.

Also included in this excellent program is the effort to aid parents to adapt to the stress of a retardate in the family and to provide means of aiding the family unit to accept the problem.

In Ulster County a day training center for pre-school has been established for the retarded children in Kingston with gratifying results for the children, the family and the personnel in charge of the program. Started in 1960, the pre-school formerly met in the cerebral palsy clinic. Children were referred by physicians, public health officials, parents and the schools.

In 1964, Murray Weiss, former school psychologist with the Kingston Consolidated School System became executive director of the Ulster County Association for Retarded Children. Through the invaluable cooperation made available to the ARC two classrooms in P.S. No. 1 are longer in use since the John F. Kennedy School opened in the neighborhood.

List Faculty

The services of Mrs. Alice Heilman of Poughkeepsie, a speech therapist, were obtained in March, 1965, and Mrs. Pearl Malkis, Woodstock, a certified nursery school teacher, was hired in September, 1965. Together with Mrs. Ruth Pidone, a teacher aide, the ARC Pre-School group, now called the Day Training Center, in compliance with regulations of the State Department of Mental Hygiene, meets three days a week in a program that has shown evidence of remarkable progress on the part of the participants.

Sixteen children are presently enrolled in the course in contrast to the six that formerly attended the group. Individual attention is stressed to provide for developmental differences found among the children. A parent group has been organized for the purpose of aiding them in understanding and working with the outside of classroom hours. Facilities to assist in the research of mentally retarded are also in progress.

An unusual relationship has been established between the youngsters and a group of eighth and ninth grade students who study in a practical crafts course at P. S. 4. Composed of boys who find it difficult to accommodate themselves to an academic curriculum, the course was designed to give the students a more meaningful knowledge and exposure in areas of work which would ultimately lead to employment for a livelihood.

For one half of the day the students attend the Myron J. Michael Junior High School where a core program of English, social studies, math and science is offered them on a level meaningful to them. The other half of the day is devoted to teaching the boys carpentry and building construction at P. S. 4.

Boys Helped Children

Soon after the day training center began operation, the boys noticed the little unfortunate and independently of their teacher, Leo Cecil, began making plans for aiding the retarded children. The older boys, having discussed the matter with their teacher, decided to make simple games and toys for the purpose of testing the coordination of the retardates. The boys built a number of objects and even offered to show the children how to use the toys. They were permitted to do so with the result that they were stimulated to help even more.

At Christmas the boys bought refreshments for the little children and brought their band down to the day training center

Boy Killed, Got Bike From Dad Just Hour Before

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Nicholas LoCicero, 7, was killed Wednesday when a bicycle he was riding and a moving bus collided in suburban Kenmore, just an hour after the boy had been given the bike by his father.

Nicholas was the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Richard LoCicero of Kenmore.

LoCicero said the bike originally was owned by Nicholas' stepbrother. The father said he had sprayed and fixed the cycle before letting his son have it. The accident occurred at Kenmore Avenue and Eugene Street.

Between Christmas and Easter the boys continued to work with the retarded children in a variety of ways. They built a set of lockers for the children's coats and are building still another one. Although they had appeared to have forgotten the party—they had not discussed it further with their teacher—two days before the date set the boys disclosed the plans they had made on the bus to and from school. They got permission to provide candy and eggs and they made each child an Easter basket. They even brought additional goodies so that the children could have some to take home.

Because some of the little ones showed distress at the noisy band music during the Christmas holiday party, the boys, remembering the incident, thoughtfully decided to use a record player instead of their band to provide music for the Easter party.

Called Self-Motivated In every instance where the boys work to bring pleasure to the retardates, they are self-motivated. Both their teacher, Mr. Cecil, and Mr. Weiss, director of the center, pointedly state that the boys themselves have initiated among themselves plans to help the younger children.

These eighth and ninth grade students who have done so much to help those less fortunate than they are to be highly commended. There seems to be a lesson somewhere in this unusual relationship. Perhaps the lesson is that love is not necessarily a product of heightened intellect but a factor in human relationships that all can share if they will only extend themselves.

It is reported that the little children were highly responsive to the kindness of the older boys while the latter benefited from the enriching emotion that accompanies all acts of love and compassion.

Double Reveals West's Strength

By JACOB Y. SON
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A letter from Brooklyn reads in part: "I must be the unluckiest player in the world. I made a trap pass over the opening no-trump and was rewarded by getting a chance to double three no-trump at my next turn. I opened my king of spades and waited to cash in. Instead, my opponent ducked two spade leads. Won the third, led a heart and finessed dummy's jack. Next came five club leads and I had to throw away a spade on the last one. Then South knocked out my ace of diamonds. I took one more spade but that wasn't enough to set the contract."

We do agree that our correspondent was unlucky. It took the combination of a five-card club suit, the ace of hearts in back of his king and excellent play by South to bring home the doubled game but we don't sympathize too much with him.

He just made a bad double. A lot of people will think that if a man doesn't double with that West hand he should never double, but this is not so. West violated one of the most important principles of bidding. That is, never double with a you jeopardize the setting trick. If West had not doubled the chances are that South would not have tried the heart finesse but would simply have knocked out the ace of diamonds after winning the third spade and hoped that spades would be 4-4 or that East would hold the ace. Strangely enough West would have had a very good double without the king of hearts and would have picked up a 300-point penalty.

Old Image Still Big Problem for 'Refrigerator Gal'

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Five and a half years ago Betty Furness deliberately closed the door on a successful and highly profitable career as television's first and still most famous spokeswoman. She wanted to go back to her original choices of career: performer and commentator.

At that time she gave herself two years to make the transition, estimating it would take the public and casting directors that long to forget the face and figure they had seen so often, opening and closing refrigerator doors and crisply demonstrating household appliances.

She Wasn't the One

"Well," she said Wednesday, "I haven't made it yet. It's okay in New York because I had a television show doing something quite different for a time on a local station. But if I get out of town there's always somebody who grins and says, 'Oh, I'll never in my life forget the time you couldn't get the refrigerator door to open.'" compartment of a vacuum cleaner to open. Always a woman with an interest in high style, Betty decided if she couldn't get people to forget the old image, she would change it. Today, Miss Furness' hair once worn up-swept and in a rather elaborate arrangement, is a sleek short cut. Her clothes are on the casual side.

Elegant Look Out

"The elegant look is out now anyway, and both clothes and hair are simple," she said. "So today I look completely different."

Bodies of Father, Daughter Recovered

LOWVILLE, N.Y. (AP)—Police have recovered from the Black River the body of a 43-year-old man, who, along with his 10-year-old daughter, had been missing since last October.

A Lewis County sheriff's deputy found the body Wednesday of Vernon Gordon of Mattydale, about two miles from where the Gordon boat was found a day after he and his daughter, Teresa, disappeared.

Gordon and his daughter were last seen when they left home for a weekend camping trip near Pine Grove. Deputies said the search for the girl would continue.

ent than I did in the old days. Even people I've known for years don't recognize me immediately. No use. That old image is still the big problem. People — particularly people in television and advertising — still say, 'Oh, no, you couldn't do that — too much identification with Westinghouse and refrigerators.'

Miss Furness yearns to get back into network television with a half-hour daily show designed for "intelligent women and not one of those lousy poo things men seem to think women like."

Has Radio Show

Until that opportunity comes along, Betty keeps herself busy doing things she enjoys even if she isn't achieving her heart's desire. She has a daily radio program, "Ask Betty Furness," on the CBS network during which she summons experts on the show to answer assorted queries submitted by listeners.

Soon she will start taping a series for the National Educational Television Network called "Living for the 60s," which explores the interests, employment opportunities and hobbies for older people.

She is a volunteer worker for VISTA, the domestic version of the Peace Corps, and has flown all over the country — 16 cities since January — doing radio television and newspaper interviews to help recruiting drives.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

Ap Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — European central bankers seem as perplexed by the U.S. economic mix as are most Americans in and out of Wall Street.

The European money managers are questioning their American counterparts closely on whether U.S. business is headed for a superbloom — with its threat of bust — or is leveling off prior to a possible turnaround. They are concerned because of the prime role of the United States in world monetary and economic affairs.

Just what's happening to the American economy is dominating the international conference of the American Bankers Association in Madrid, Spain. And just what really is happening depends on which of the experts you are listening to.

Europeans are questioning the official Washington view as outlined in their Madrid by Gardner Ackley, chairman of President Johnson's Council of Economic Advisers. He is trying to assure them that the American economy is slowing down in healthy fashion after expanding too fast in the first three months of this year.

But the European central bankers seem to be taking a different view than did the traders in the U.S. stock markets. The April slowdown sent stock prices down sharply. Even more disturbing to the markets was the drop in new car sales and production in May.

But the bankers from 15 other nations are questioning the official Washington view that restraint is now the watchword.

Sugar by Floodlight

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Havana radio says extra workers are being recruited on a large scale to chop sugar cane at night.

"All kinds of lights are turning night into day" in the cane fields, the broadcast said.

rather than speculation. The Europeans are particularly skittish at the prospects of continuing inflation in this country, mindful of the inflation inroads into their own economies.

The perplexities of the current situation in the U.S. economy — is it or isn't it at a turning point? — also are the dominant themes of meetings under way in New York.

Steelmen are debating both close-range and long-range outlooks for their industry at the annual meeting of the American Iron & Steel Institute.

The professional watchers of the stock market are gathered at the Financial Analysts Federation's annual meeting. And their views range all the way from optimism to pessimism, with the middle ground of fingers-crossed attracting the most adherents.

It's a puzzling time — whether you look at it from this side of the Atlantic or the other.

SAUGERTIES NEWS

Award Lutheran Prizes; Schedule 2 Presentations

Atonement Lutheran Church, Market Street, Saugerties, holds Sunday services at 8 and 11 a. m., with nursery care during late service; Sunday school at 9:15 a. m.

At the annual Ascension Day Service last week pupils of Junior and Senior Confirmation gave a public demonstration of knowledge of the Bible and catechism. Dawn Gade of Washington Avenue, was awarded a prize for best essay on the Life of Martin Luther. She is of the class of 1966. Kenneth E. Boush, of Route 3, Box 49, was awarded a Lutheran emblem in pastor's class and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Boush, a house blessing for best parental cooperation of the class. Janet Canger, Joanne Canger, and Anita Smith were awarded praying hands pins for best attendance in their classes. Parental cooperation awards were also presented to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Anders, Barclay Street; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schumacher, Redwood Drive; and Mr. and Mrs. Homer VanVoorhis of Saugerties. A reception for the pupils and those attending the service followed the service and was sponsored by the Lutheran Church Women of Atonement.

This Sunday at 11 a. m. service, 15 pupils who have completed two years instruction in Bible and catechism will be received by confirmation. Each will receive a confirmation booklet and a daily devotional book. Dean Rittie of Canoe Hill Road, will make the presentation of gifts in behalf of the class of 1966. From offerings presented each week for two years, the class will present to the church a new five cross fair linen, a guest book for the Narthex, and a brass knocker for the door of the sacristy.

Planning Joint Memorial Service

Joint Memorial Services will be held for departed members of Queen Ulster Rebekah Lodge and William H. Raymond Lodge IOOF of Saugerties, Sunday, June 5 at 11 a. m. at Congregational Church, Saugerties.

At the last meeting of the Rebekah group, plans were made for a bus trip June 4 as the annual pilgrimage to the Rebekah Home in Ithaca. Those planning to make the trip are asked to call Noble Grand Anna Minkler for reservations. The public is invited to take advantage of this event.

Announcement has been made that the recent card and bunco party was a financial success.

The next regular meeting of

Reformed Church Exchange Service

Guest minister at Saugerties Reformed Church at 9:45 a. m. and 11 a. m. services Sunday will be the Rev. Eldon D. Wadsworth, minister of Hopewell Presbyterian Church, Huntersville, N. C. Conducting worship at both services will be the Rev. Orville Jay Hine.

The Rev. Mr. Wadsworth is visiting Saugerties Reformed Church in an exchange of pastors between Reformed Church in America and Presbyterian Church in the United States. This exchange has been sponsored by the Classis of Ulster in which ministers of churches in Ulster County visited Presbyterian churches in the Charlotte area. Ministers from North Carolina are returning the visit to Reformed Churches of Ulster County this weekend. The Rev. Mr. Wadsworth is pastor of the oldest Presbyterian Church in the Charlotte area. It is hoped that the exchange of pastors and elders will promote an understanding as the two denominations discuss the question of whether they should merge into one denomination or not.

Elders of the church will meet Sunday at 9 a. m. for the purpose of receiving new members into the church. Members of the Confirmation Class will be received by the elders at this time. Others who are desirous of church membership are asked to communicate with the pastor so that the necessary arrangements may be made. Both members of the Confirmation Class and others will be welcomed into membership of the church at Communion Service Sunday, June 5.

Sunday church school will meet at 9:45 a. m. with worship service led by the Sixth grade. Lindley Gould has joined the administrative staff of the Sunday church school and will serve as assistant superintendent.

Youth Fellowship will meet Sunday at 7 p. m. in the parish hall, with program in charge of Miss Cheryl Hine.

Junior Girl Scouts will meet Tuesday and Brownie Girl Scouts Wednesday at 3:30 p. m.

Boys working for their God and Country Award will meet Tuesday after school with the pastor.

Women's Guild for Christian Service will meet for a picnic meeting Wednesday, June 1 at the home of Mrs. Willet Overbaugh, Lighthouse Drive, at 7 p. m. Members are requested to bring their own place settings and chairs. It is also requested that paper plates and plastic utensils not be used.

Junior Choir, Youth Choir and Senior Choir will all meet at regular times this week.

The lodge will be held June 7 in the Saugerties hall, with Dorothy Maxfield and her committee serving refreshments.

Congregational Notes Services

First Congregational Church, Saugerties, holds Sunday services at 11 a. m. Church school, for all age groups, meets at 10 a. m.

Members have been asked to remember the Rev. Billy Graham in their prayers. The famed evangelist goes to London, England, for a crusade from June 1 to July 2 and Congregationalists feel his work there is badly needed; say a spiritual bankruptcy exists in Britain that could very well be reflected in America within short years.

Members are also reminded that the annual meeting of the Connecticut Congregational Christian Fellowship will be held this Thursday at South Hartford Church. All are invited to attend, and particulars may be obtained from the Rev. Frederick J. Imhoff.

The recent rummage sale of the church was highly successful, in spite of rain. Hard work and useful items offered earned $146.18 and those women who worked for these items deserve the thanks of all. Many felt the success of the sale was due to the fact that it was conducted in the church instead of elsewhere. With other sales coming up in the future members are asked to save items for these.

Men of the church are still meeting Wednesday nights to work on apartments at the parsonage. Turnouts have been poor recently and results limited and more volunteers are needed at these work party evenings on Wednesdays.

Officers and teachers of church school will meet Thursday 7:30 p. m. in the church rooms to plan and discuss curriculum and program. All teachers and assistants should attend. Other events in the near future include the Rebekah Lodge Memorial Service at the church June 5 and Children's Day June 12.

First Communion Scheduled June 5

A large class of newly confirmed young people will receive first Communion Trinity Sunday, June 5, at 11 a. m. services in Atonement Lutheran Church, Saugerties.

Those to be received into membership at the church this Sunday at 11 a. m. service and further honored Trinity Sunday are:

Steven Ahrens and Leslie Hauck of Mt. Marion Park; Diane Heller of Malden; Kenneth Bauser, Dean Rittie, Debra Bell, Walter Haas, Mark Ishkanian, Allen Wichtendahl, Herbert Lenz, Janet Canger, Dawn Gade, Teri Myer, Nancy Schaefer, William Whitaker and Kenneth Anders.

Another June 5 event is the Hudson District Luther League rally for churches of the Kingston-Saugerties area to be held from 3 to 7 p. m. at Mt. Tremper Summer Camp, Mt. Tremper. A motion picture, "The World, the Flesh and the Devil," will be shown and there will be a guest speaker. Also scheduled are a recreation period and a songfest. Those attending should wear sports clothing and bring a box supper. Plans are being made at Atonement Lutheran Church for pupils in intermediate departments to attend the event with class teachers.

Town Notes

Members of Lamouree Hackett Post No. 72, American Legion Auxiliary, are requested to meet Memorial Day at 9:30 a. m. at the Legion Home with members of the Legion. Both groups should be present at that time for services at the monument on the Legion grounds, after which they will participate in the holiday parade here.

Mrs. Lillian Compitello of Blue Mountain, Saugerties, is a patient in Benedictine Hospital. She entered the hospital last Saturday for a general check-up.

The District of Columbia, in 1900, had a veterinarian on the payroll to care for the 500 horses and mules in the city's service.

Raising of Flag Signals Birth of Guyanese Republic

By PAUL FINCH
GEORGETOWN, Guyana

(AP) — Floodlights lit up the midnight sky Wednesday night and 50,000 Guyanese cheered as the five-colored flag of Guyana went up in place of the Union Jack, signaling independence for another British colony.

The joyous outburst came after a solemn moment in Queen Elizabeth Park when the British flag was lowered in darkness while bands played "God Save the Queen."

Cry: Down for Good
A few persons near the press box shouted, "Down! Down for good!"

Then the lights blazed on, and the bands switched to "Green Land of Guyana" as the new national banner was hoisted. Prime Minister Forbes Burnham wept.

Former Prime Minister Cheddi Jagan, Marxist foe of Burnham, appeared at the ceremony and to general surprise embraced his successor.

Jagan told newsmen: "I have come, as I promised, to honor independence."

Jagan and his People's Progressive Party are boycotting all ceremonies aside from the flag raising and the opening of the first independent Parliament. His Chicago-born wife, Janet, refused to attend the ceremony Wednesday night.

Image Is Burned
Burnham's image burned on a fireworks screen at the park after a spectacular display of pyrotechnics.

Georgetown, which appeared sleepy earlier this week, came alive with thousands jamming the streets, dancing, cheering, and drinking rum.

Steel bands and calypso singers entertained in major night spots. The holiday was expected to run through the weekend and Monday, which is a religious day.

Flag raising ceremonies took place simultaneously in every town and village of the new nation on the northern coast of South America. They marked the end of 385 years of British, Dutch and French rule.

Guyana becomes the 23rd member of the British Commonwealth. The Duke and Duchess of Kent represented the queen at the ceremony in Georgetown.

A Tale of 2 Letters

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa (AP) — The City Council received two letters recently from the Fire Department.

The first, from Asst. Fire Chief Bob Ellison, urged the council to ban public fireworks displays as a safety precaution.

The second letter was from Fire Chief Jesse Hunter. He requested council to issue a fireworks permit for Firemen's Night at the ball park.

New Paltz District Leader To Be Speaker at Methodist Church

REV. GEORGE P. WERNER

Guest speaker at the New Paltz Methodist Church Sunday 11 a. m. will be the Rev. George P. Werner, superintendent of the Hudson North District of the New York Methodist Conference.

His topic will be "The Two Gardens of God."

The Rev. Mr. Werner will complete his six-year term as district superintendent of the Hudson North District at the 169th annual session of the New York Annual Conference to be held in Bridgeport, Conn., June 14 through 19.

The Rev. Mr. Werner will be a delegate to the World Methodist Conference in London this summer. He has been responsible for the supervision of 100 Methodist Churches in the district while also being active in the Kingston area community.

River Gives Up Body Of Tugboat Worker

The body of a man found in the Hudson River near New Baltimore, Greene County, Wednesday has been tentatively identified as John Oliveria, 45, a tugboat employee who reportedly fell into the river from a boat last Dec. 4.

Leeds State Police said Greene County Coroner Henry Mills reported the description of the body found yesterday by a government agency survey team, fits the description of Oliveria, who was employed as a cook's helper on the tugboat Catherine Long, plying out of New York City, when he fell into the river.

Positive identification of the body was expected to be made some time today by relatives, who have been notified by Leeds troopers of the recovery of the body.

Major Sections Have Pleasant Weather

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Pleasant weather continued today across the major part of the nation with clear skies and mild temperatures.

There was an extensive wet belt in the Southeast, with more thunderstorms and showers from the Gulf Coast to the Middle Atlantic states. Heavy thunderstorms hit in eastern sections of North Carolina and Virginia.

Nearly three inches of rain doused the Norfolk, Va., area in a six-hour period and more than two inches splashed Elizabeth City, N.C.

Several funnel clouds were spotted Wednesday in the Miami, Fla., area during severe also rumbled across areas in thunderstorms. Thunderstorms also rumbled across areas in the southern Rockies. Heavy hail pelted Las Vegas, N.M.

Will Ask Dismissal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The attorney for public relations man Fred B. Black Jr., says he may ask the Supreme Court today to dismiss outright income tax charges against his client in light of the Justice Department's admission it "bugged" talks between the two.

President Aware Key Issues Cut His Popularity

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is keenly aware that the high cost of living and the Viet Nam war are cutting into his administration's popularity as measured by public opinion polls.

In reaction to the polls and other signs, the administration has made several moves to try to show that the rise in living costs has been much lower than in other industrialized nations and that there are grounds for hope that civil strife in South Viet Nam can be composed and a degree of unity attained.

Lowest Point: Harris

After his latest survey this week, pollster Louis Harris said that the American public's rating of the way Johnson does his job has fallen to the lowest point of his 2½ years in the White House.

Only 55 per cent now think he is doing an excellent or good job, Harris reported. This is a decline of 7 percentage points from two months ago and 12 points from January.

But Johnson's rating in this poll is still above the low points of the Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations.

And a Gallup Poll released Wednesday night reported that a test for the presidency between Johnson and Republican Richard M. Nixon would be closer now than eight months ago.

The poll said 54 per cent of those queried replied they would like to see Johnson win if the election was held today, while 36 per cent picked Nixon and 10 per cent were undecided. Last September, a similar poll listed Johnson with 61 per cent, Nixon with 35 per cent and had 4 per cent undecided. No other candidates were listed in these polls.

28 PC Favor Viet Stay

Another recent Gallup Poll posed the question: Should the United States withdraw its troops if the South Vietnamese begin fighting among themselves in a big way? The polling organization said 54 per cent of Americans would favor withdrawal in that event, and only 28 per cent favored continuing to help South Viet Nam.

At a news conference last Saturday, the President was asked: "How do you regard some of the very recent polls that show conversion both Viet Nam and the economic situation as to inflation?"

He replied that he believes there is somewhat more concern about higher prices now "than you would have in a normal period because we are coming close to reaching our objective of full employment."

But he produced a chart to show that United States price increases have averaged less than 1½ per cent a year since 1960, whereas in Germany the growth rate is 3 per cent, in the United Kingdom and France 3½ to 4 per cent and in Japan 6½ per cent.

As for dissatisfaction with the situation in Viet Nam, he said that he himself is "leading the parade" of those who want to get out.

Turncoat Reaches Hong Kong, Only Two of 21 Left

HONG KONG (AP) — Korean War turncoat Clarence Adams arrived in Hong Kong today, leaving only two of 21 self-exiled former American prisoners of war in Communist China.

Adams, from Memphis, Tenn., crossed the Lowu border bridge 23 miles north of the city with his Chinese wife and their children, Louis, 3, and Della, 4. Nicholas Platt, a U.S. consulate official met them at the border and took them to an undisclosed hotel.

The consulate had been expecting Adams since the Chinese notified the Hong Kong Red Cross he would cross the border May 9. But Adams told newsmen he had not planned to leave China until this week.

"I think maybe there was a mistake in the date," he said. The turncoats still in China are Howard Adams, no relation to Clarence, of Corsicana, Tex., and James Veneris of Hawthorne, Calif. One of the former war prisoners who chose to remain with their captors died in China two left via Europe and 15 others preceded Adams across the Hong Kong border.

The last was Morris Wills of Fort Ann, N.Y., who crossed last Oct. 19.

Adams said he did not know whether Howard Adams and Veneris were planning to leave China.

Plan Newspaper Strike Mediation Through Weekend

NEW YORK (AP) — Both sides in New York's newspaper strike plan to work through the Memorial Day weekend in an effort to bring the 31-day-old dispute to an end.

Matt Meyer, the president of the struck World Journal Tribune, and Thomas J. Murphy, executive vice president of the Newspaper Guild, pledged an extra effort to break the deadlock.

No major progress in the negotiations was reported Wednesday.

Five of the 10 unions seeking contracts with the new publishing enterprise have reached agreement with the publishers. The Guild struck the new firm April 24, one day before publication of its first newspapers. The other unions refused to cross the picket lines.

A key stumbling block in the dispute revolves around the number of employees to be dismissed in the merger of the morning Herald Tribune and the afternoon World-Telegram & Sun and Journal-American. The union is demanding that dismissals be made on the basis of seniority.

He replied that he believes there is somewhat more concern about higher prices now "than you would have in a normal period because we are coming close to reaching our objective of full employment."

But he produced a chart to show that United States price increases have averaged less than 1½ per cent a year since 1960, whereas in Germany the growth rate is 3 per cent, in the United Kingdom and France 3½ to 4 per cent and in Japan 6½ per cent.

As for dissatisfaction with the situation in Viet Nam, he said that he himself is "leading the parade" of those who want to get out.

GOP Names Quigley

NEW YORK (AP) — The Republican State Committee announced the appointment Wednesday of Robert M. Quigley, a former assemblyman, to head the party's campaign in 18 counties from Rochester to Binghamton.

Quigley, 43, will coordinate campaign activities for Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller. The counties he will work in are Broome, Chemung, Chenango, Cortland, Delaware, Madison, Otsego, Schuyler, Tioga, Tompkins, Cayuga, Livingston, Monroe, Ontario, Seneca, Steuben, Wayne and Yates.

Detroit Slashes 100,000 Units From Production

DETROIT (AP) — The auto industry, facing the task of selling the greatest inventory of new cars in its history, reportedly has cut 100,000 units from production schedules.

The report came Wednesday from Ward's Automotive Reports, an industry trade publication. It said the cutback is in addition to an estimated 175,000 units Ward's said were chopped from production schedules two weeks ago.

The industry in the past week has revealed two significant figures: — It sold 242,407 cars in the May 11-20 period, about 3,000 units behind the corresponding total for the same period of 1965.

— And its inventory of unsold cars passed the 1.6 million mark for the first time in history.

Ward's said the cutback of 100,000 cars "does not include all four major auto makers," but the trade paper did not name which firms were to cut down on production.

Need Proper Attitude On Rights: Baptist

DETROIT (AP) — Youthful looking Dr. H. Franklin Pashall, new president of the Southern Baptist Convention, has definite ideas about the future of religion in this country.

He outlined many of them at a news conference Wednesday after his election as head of the nation's largest Protestant denomination.

The 44-year-old Pashall fielded nearly 50 questions ranging from the Negro's part in the Southern Baptist church to Pashall's views on separation of church and state.

Nearly half of the questions dealt with the racial issue. The new convention head commented, "I have been distressed over the racial problem, distressed on both sides in the struggle."

He said the federal government had provided laws governing integration and equality and added: "We have the laws now and if Christian leaders can instill the proper attitude in people, we will have significant progress."

3 Persons Hurt In City Mishaps; Driver Is Cited

Three persons were injured in two city traffic mishaps Wednesday, a driver was cited on a charge after one, and no injuries were reported after an uptown car-bus collision.

Karl S. Brueckner, 19, of RD 1, Box 490, West Hurley was charged with changing lanes unsafely after a mishap at Broadway and Thomas Street reported at 10:50 p. m. Police said the other car was driven by Carl S. VanWagenen, 31, of 135 Tinker Street, Woodstock.

Brueckner reported an injury of the left hip and was to be treated by a doctor, and Josephine Wunderlich, 20, of 226 West 238th Street, New York, riding in the other car, reported elbow and knee injuries and was taken to the Benedictine Hospital. Officers Harry Short and Douglas Longo investigated.

Brueckner was fined $25 by Special City Judge George A. Beck today.

Delno R. Ellis of 40 Prince Street, reported knee, rib and face injuries after his car hit a tree at Garden and Prince Streets at 6:50 p. m. and was treated at the Benedictine Hospital. Police said he reported that dust got in an eye and he was rubbing it when he hit the tree. Officers Short and Longo investigated.

Police said the car-bus mishap at North Front and Wall Streets early Wednesday afternoon happened as a traffic light changed. The car was driven by Kathryn A. Carpio, 23, of 595 Kierstead Avenue, and the Adirondack Transit Lines bus was operated by William C. Cables, 37, of Springtown Road, Tillson. Officers Edward Ortlieb and Kenneth Radel investigated.

Doctors Discuss

from the audience an many facets of the Medicare plan, particularly as it applied to Ulster County.

Discussion also centered on the special meeting to be held in New York City by the Medical Society House of Delegates of New York State, which will be attended by representatives of the Ulster County Medical Society. Planning to attend as representatives are Dr. Elbert F. MacFadden, president of the Ulster County Medical Society; Dr. Frederick W. Holcomb Jr., secretary of the Society, and Dr. Herbert F. Schwartz.

Two resolutions, which were adopted by the Ulster County Society and which will be read at the House of Delegates' meeting, read in part:

"It is the clear intent of the New York State legislature to make available to everyone high quality medical care, and since quality in any service has always been improved by allowing a free choice and access to multiple suppliers of the service, we feel that the recipients of New York State social, health and welfare benefits be guaranteed by law a free choice of physician. We believe no government agency of New York State should be permitted to designate or limit where, or by whom, medical care shall be provided except as designated in previous professional licensing statutes.

The scope of the care to be provided by the law implementing in New York State the provisions of Title XIX of Medicare is sufficiently broad to include all areas of medical practice, says the resolution, which asks that the committee of the Medical Society of the State of New York appointed to negotiate with the Governor's Interdepartmental Task Force be composed of representatives of all medical and surgical specialties, and general practice.

Dr. Elbert MacFadden, president of the local medical society, said he was gratified at the turnout of members for the meeting. "I believe," he said, "the session served as a useful and informative forum for all our members in the implementation of Medicare."

Driver Hurt, Cited

Howard Holmes, of Rush, Monroe County, was injured Wednesday when his car went out of control on a Gardiner highway and came to stop in a ditch. He was treated at the New Paltz Medical Center. Troopers cited the motorist for failure to keep to the right.

Crash Orphans 7 Children as Car, School Bus Meet

ELMIRA, N.Y. (AP) — Seven children were made orphans Wednesday when their parents were killed in a collision of an automobile and a school bus carrying 29 pupils on Route 223, 10 miles northeast of here.

Two of the pupils on the bus suffered minor injuries and were treated by private physicians. Three of the orphaned children also were hurt. The four others were not with their parents in the car.

Dead were Luke S. Spinelli, 41, the driver of the car, and his wife, Virginia, 32, of suburban Horseheads.

Listed in serious condition with head injuries in Arnot-Ogden Hospital in Elmira were Robert Spinelli, 5, and Mark Anthony Spinelli, 3. In fair condition with possible head injuries was Tony Joe Spinelli, 9 months.

State Police said the bus was operated by the Horseheads Central School District. The driver, James Wheaton, 48, of Horseheads, escaped injury, police said.

Police said the accident occurred at the intersection of Fairview Road and Route 223. The Spinelli car was traveling on Fairview Road and the school bus on Route 223.

The Spinelli address was RD 3 on Thomas Road. Wheaton's address is Box 21.

thrown headfirst into the rain swollen creek ten feet below. He struck his head on stones, injuring his skull and knocking him unconscious. Scouts Dennis Gale, thirteen, Keith Keator, thirteen, and Henry Bernstein Jr., fifteen, immediately pulled him from the water and administered artificial respiration. They treated him for shock by keeping his head elevated and his body covered with jackets. One Scout ran a mile to the nearest house and summoned a doctor. When the doctor arrived they made an improvised stretcher and helped carry the patient to a waiting station wagon. Donald was then taken to the hospital where further treatment was given.

Participating in the presentation of the Certificate of Merit at Wednesday's Spring Court of Honor, in addition to Beal, were: Oliver Tweedy, Council advancement chairman; Alex MacDonald, Council scout executive; Doug S. Meyers, Ontario Trails district chairman; Henry P. Elghme, Council camp chairman and Dr. Warren Parmalee, Lexington physician. It was Dr. Parmalee who was summoned to the scene of the accident and, in his address, he said he had no doubts that the Gale boy might have died had it not been for the quick-thinking and action of his companions.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission has approved a permit for Carleton H. Freedman to construct an FM station, to broadcast at 96.9 megacycles, in Utica, N.Y.

The federal agency announced action Wednesday.

Defendant Fined, Drop Charges on 4

A defendant charged last month with disorderly conduct was fined $50 today by Special City Judge George A. Beck and charges against four others were dismissed.

Gordon Barnes, 56, of 23 Leto Road, Westmore, Albany County, paid the $50 fine. A like charge had also been lodged against Angelina Barnes, 42, of the same address, but was recently dismissed. Police said they were booked after a complaint from a local motor operator.

A third degree assault charge against Juan M. Rivera, 23, of Port Ewen, was withdrawn. It was lodged recently by Ralph Mergendahl, of Franklin Street.

Dismissed was a charge of driving at a speed not reasonable and prudent against Patrick H. Mitchell, of 179 Washington Avenue, one of failure to keep right against John F. Cardinale, 88 Farrelly Street, and one of driving at a speed not reasonable and prudent against Edward P. Caban, 216 Downs Street.

Robert Wagner, of RD 5, Box 169, Kingston, charged with speeding, was fined $10.

Viet Troops

building. Then they forced their way in and threw books, furniture, films and other articles through the doors and windows before setting the building afire.

Ky's regime showed no sign of buckling under the Buddhist pressure or of sending troops to Hue to quell the rebellion there. Riot police in Saigon quickly blocked an attempt by about 20 Buddhists to demonstrate in front of the U.S. embassy, then scattered them with tear gas when they tried to start another demonstration in the central market.

Thousands had marched peacefully earlier today behind the coffin of a Vietnamese army lieutenant killed during the political tension last week, but later about 200 students assembled and marched on the U.S.I.S. building.

Newsmen learned students from Hue University called the U.S. office and warned of the attack.

Several demonstrators lowered the American flag and apparently were preparing to rub it in the dirt when others stopped them.

Two Vietnamese military policemen on duty at the building made no effort to stop the attack. Fire trucks arrived about an hour after the mob. The firemen made no attempt to put out the blaze but only worked to prevent it from spreading to nearby houses.

A U.S. Army major reported he saw Thich Tri Quang, one of the chief leaders of the Buddhist antigovernment movement, telling the demonstrators to stop the destruction.

Sacked Building

A mob sacked the building — which also houses the U.S. Public Affairs Office — on Jan. 23, 1965, and burned about half the books in the U.S. library. That demonstration was aimed at ousting the civilian government of Premier Tran Van Huong, who was replaced four days later by Gen. Nguyen Khanh. Now the Buddhist battle cry is for a civilian regime.

Anti-Americanism has become increasingly strident since Ky's troops crushed the Da Nang revolt Monday. The Buddhists apparently had hoped a widespread show of anti-Ky sentiment might swing the Johnson administration away from the ruling junta. Instead, U.S. officials expressed relief the Da Nang uprising had collapsed without spilling more blood and urged both sides to get on with the war against the Communists and an orderly transfer to civilian rule.

Despite the heated speeches, the rebellion in Hue, 400 miles northeast of Saigon, seemed to be losing steam following a declaration by the military commander in the area, Brig. Gen. Phan Xuan Nguan, that he and his men were behind the government. Some of Nguan's 1st Division troops helped armed Buddhist youths set up roadblocks in Hue last week.

U.S. diplomats said Wednesday night they thought Ky's government seemed in control again. But one American remarked "a lot depends on how the government handles liquidation of the revolt." He said it probably would be a mistake to send troops into Hue to take control of the city, as Ky did in Da Nang.

Understood Too Late

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Raymon Delgado, 3, fell into the Miami River Wednesday before the eyes of his deaf-mute sister and a few yards away from his parents.

The sister, Rosito, 14, rushed up to their parents and tried to explain that Raymon had slipped into the river from a fishing boat.

By the time their father understood and plunged into the water, Raymon had drowned, police said.

Candidate Views UR, Road Work As Twin Circuses

Urban Renewal and highway building have become "twin circuses," according to the Liberal Party candidate for the 38th Senatorial District embracing Ulster and Dutchess counties.

Joseph A. Marvella said in a prepared statement today, that "I've done a lot of reading on the more technical aspects of both because I think a candidate for the State Senate ought to familiarize himself with such vital aspects of community life."

"But the problem is that even experts are getting into more narrowed-down aspects of their fields, as the laws, regulations and theories on urban renewal and road building continue to bellow."

"I'm not the best-educated man in Dutchess and Ulster counties, but I'm nobody's fool either. The redevelopment of the Hudson Valley is being blown along by political hot air, and little of anything else. Urban renewal has caused bitter controversy in Newburgh and Beacon, and could do the same in Poughkeepsie.

"I favor a carefully considered rebuilding of blighted areas. But I don't favor taking the burden off one man's back by breaking another man's heart. My opponents, both Republican and Democrat, are part of those groups of public officials who have more and more felt the lure of building grand monuments at the expense of you, the taxpayer."

I, Joseph Marvella, am an ordinary man, running for a high office. It is my desire to look out for the welfare of the ordinary taxpayer, because I'm an ordinary taxpayer myself."

ceiving financial aid from the state.

—Expansion of the amount of life insurance with cash or loan values that could be held without affecting the owner's eligibility. This is designed to prevent persons from dropping such insurance in order to qualify for the program. The limit in the new law is $1,000 per person.

Lent, a Republican from Nassau County, said it was too early to outline the specific forms the changes might take.

In addition to possible state changes, Brydges said he understood that U.S. Sen. Jacob K. Javits would look into the possibility of some alterations in the federal law — the base for the state's legislation.

These changes, Brydges said, included provisions that would allow different income eligibility levels be set for various areas of the state and expanding federal participation in aid to persons aged 21 to 65.

Brydges and Lent commented to newsmen Wednesday at the conclusion of a two-day public hearing sponsored by the recently established Joint Legislative Committee on Health and Medicare.

Slate Public

attend were Mayor Raymond W. Garaghan of Kingston along with mayors in other cities in the Congressional District: Chairman Charles Relyea (R-Hurley), chairman of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors; Dr. Vernon B. Link, Ulster County health commissioner; Dr. Virgil B. DeWitt, president of the Ulster County Board of Health; Harry F. Edinger, director of environmental sanitation, county health department; Supervisor Thaddeus Musial-kiewicz, Town of Ulster, in which numerous complaints on dust and air pollution have been received; and Supervisor Irving Bell (D-6th Ward), who has been active in the Board of Supervisors in seeking relief locally on the air pollution problem.

Open to Public

Logan told The Freeman that the June 6 local hearing, which is open to the public, is designed to seek an answer to whether or not Federal legislation dealing with air pollution is "adequate." He said that State Health Department hearings and meetings by the State Air Pollution Control Board were scheduled about the same time, but it was hoped that information could be obtained locally to determine whether any action could be taken on a Federal level to help the counties within the Congressional District.

Serious Problem

In announcing the public hearing, Resnick said in part that: "Air pollution from industrial and other sources has become a serious problem in the Mid-Hudson Valley, and I have received numerous complaints on this subject."

"In order to become more thoroughly acquainted with the extent and nature of the problem, and to work towards an early solution, I have scheduled a public hearing in Kingston, at the Board of Supervisors Chambers, Ulster County Office Building, starting at 9:30 a. m. Monday, June 6, 1966."

The congressman also said that in order to give all interested parties an opportunity to be heard, private individuals are asked to limit their comments to five minutes, and public officials and persons representing business firms 10 minutes. If time permits, Resnick said, there will be a period for questions and discussion. It is suggested that statements be written, he said.

Significant Subject

It is believed that the scheduled public hearing is unprecedented in the 28th Congressional District. The subject of air pollution has been a significant one in recent years, particularly in the East Kingston - Town of Ulster area in Ulster County, where residents have voiced complaints to their legislators concerning damage to their homes and cars as a result of blasting conditions, dust and other air pollution conditions.

Local Diabetes Chapter Meets, Newly - Formed

Approximately 100 persons from throughout Ulster County turned out for a recent meeting of the newly-formed Ulster County Chapter of the New York Diabetes Association in the Benedictine School of Nursing.

George Christian, temporary chairman, greeted those present. Dr. Curtis P. Bight, local physician narrated a film on Camp Nyda. He said that an "open house" will take place June 19 at the camp located at Burlington, near Middletown. The camp accepts diabetic children between ages of six and 11 in July and those aged 11 to 15 in August. Each summer William F. (Bill) Talbert, a diabetic who is familiar to sports fans everywhere, visits with the camp youngsters.

Alfred C. Nichols, executive director of N.Y.D.A. Inc., spoke on the education of the diabetic and the educational benefits derived from the association, including, set standards of employment, clinics to deal with the diabetic, young people counseling service, the Clinical Society composed of more than four hundred doctors, their exchange of experiences and treatments, symposiums and camps. Mr. Nichols concluded by welcoming the local chapter into the New York Diabetes Association, Inc.

Modern Trends

Dr. Gerald J. Friedman, president of N.Y.D.A. Inc., spoke on the "Modern Trends in Care of Diabetes". He defined Diabetes as a combination of Greek and Latin meaning sweet urine, being a disease with insufficient supply of effective insulin, a secretion of the pancreas without adequate amount, sugars, fats and protein cannot burn properly. Diabetes is a chronic hereditary disease, at the present time borne by four million people in the United States with 1,400,000 who have the disease unaware of its existence. Anyone with the disease existing in his family is potentially a candidate, plus a stress phenomenon diabetes can develop. Among the listed potentials Dr. Friedman said were obesity, stress, pregnancy, infection and the hormonal glandular factor. Clinical or overt diabetes produces symptoms of thirst, frequent urination, weight loss, itching, all of which produce high blood sugar and sugar in urine specimens.

Sees War Unpopular

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP)—Australian Sen. James P. Ormonde, a member of the opposition Labor party, said today U.S. citizens believe they have been sold a pup on Viet Nam.

On his way home after a month in the United States, Ormonde said he met no one in America who favored the U.S. commitment in Viet Nam.

The people were not necessarily against President Johnson, he said, but were sorry for his predicament and saw no morality in the war.

Ormonde said the consensus was that Americans should not be taxed to the eyes to fight other people's wars.

Categories Cited

The audience heard Dr. Friedman explain the two major categories of diabetes: Juvenile, Brittle, Labile which require insulin, and Adult Juvenile type or mature onset type. Of existing diabetes, juvenile represents 10 per cent, mature onset type five per cent with eighty five per cent of all being obese. Cure of the obese, Dr. Friedman said, "means control of the diabetes."

Treatment for the juvenile and juvenile type adult includes insulin, diet and exercise. The adult diabetic will combat his disease with diet supervised by his physician. He possesses insulin but not enough to be effective, with diet he may also employ the aid of oral substitutes or hypoglycemic agents such as Orinase, DBI, etc. Doctor Friedman terminated his discourse by saying if the diabetic maintains normal weight, is free from diabetic symptoms, has no reactions from his diabetic medication and there is no acid when testing for such he may feel his disease is well controlled. A question and answer session took place through a refreshment period supervised by Mrs. Morton Brett, Benedictine Therapeutic dietitian and Miss Lynn Demski and Miss Eleanor Ilgner.

The next meeting of the Ulster County Chapter of N.Y.D.A. Inc. will be held at 8 P.M. June 9 in Bethany Hall at the Old Dutch Church, Kingston. All diabetics, their families and all interested persons will receive a cordial welcome.

Bus Kills Boy, 6; Mother Is Driver

LA PUENTE, Calif. (AP) — The driver of a school bus let her son off near their home and pulled away. The boy was killed Wednesday when he was run over by the bus, police said.

The driver, Dorothy Ann Clairmont, 42, told police she looked in the rearview mirror after she felt the wheel pass over something and saw the child, Thomas, 6, lying on the street.

To Use Floating Mats

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Portable, floating mats made of aluminum may enable military helicopters to land in marshy areas or on waterways.

Aluminum Co. of America announced Wednesday it has developed aluminum helipads for the U.S. Navy.

Alcoa said the mats or panels underwent testing at the U.S. Army Engineer Waterways experiment station, Vicksburg, Mass., and performed to expectations. Additional tests are scheduled under actual operating conditions in Viet Nam.

The mat is an assembly of aluminum panels bolted together to form a high-strength, rigid structure. Each panel contains more than 750 diamond-shaped cells of aluminum sheet filled with blocks of polystyrene to provide buoyancy. The six-inch thick panels are approximately eight - by - three feet in size.

Alcoa designed the panels under a program sponsored by the Advanced Research Project Agency.

Take Hostile View To Travia's Plan On Gotham Taxes

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Senate's Republican leadership took a hostile view today of Assembly Speaker Anthony J. Travia's plan for settling the continuing dispute over New York City taxes.

Travia, the Legislature's top-ranking Democrat, came up Wednesday with a $422-million revenue program for the financially hard-pressed city — including $316 million in new or increased taxes.

But the Senate's GOP majority leader, Earl W. Brydges, said Travia's insistence that there be no increase in the city's 15-cent transit fare imposed "an impossible condition."

Nevertheless, said Brydges, "since this is the first specific program to come before the Legislature, I feel duty bound to take it before the Senate Republican conference next Tuesday."

At the same time, Brydges indicated he did not expect the Senate GOP majority to approve the Democratic speaker's plan.

TODAY IN HISTORY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Thursday, May 26, the 146th day of 1966. There are 219 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1868, the first and only impeachment by Congress of a president, Andrew Johnson was held. Johnson was acquitted by a single vote.

On this date in 1790, Tennessee was organized as a territory.

In 1864, the Territory of Montana was organized.

In 1865, the Civil War ended.

In 1946, normal service was restored on railroads after a nationwide strike that ended as the government ended its control of the lines.

Ten years ago — A special Senate committee on air power released testimony by Gen. Curtis LeMay, chief of the Strategic Air Command, who had told the subcommittee that it was his guess that by 1959 Russia could destroy the United States with a surprise attack.

Five years ago — The United Nations Command and a military junta that had staged a coup d'etat in South Korea reached agreement to return South Korean troops used in the South to U.N. command.

One year ago — Six-hundred U.S. Marines were replaced in the strife-torn Dominican Republic by more than 600 policemen from Brazil, Honduras, Costa Rica, Nicaragua and El Salvador.

Plays Down Value

WASHINGTON (AP)—A New York City investment banker sees little or no value in the stocks of the Delaware & Hudson, the Erie Lackawanna or the Boston & Maine railroads to justify exchange for Norfolk & Western Railway stock.

C. L. Bergmann gave that opinion Wednesday before an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing while testifying in opposition to petitions by the Erie, the D&H and the B&M for merger with the N&W. He said that neither Erie stock nor B&M stock have any intrinsic value, while the value of D&H stock is far below the exchange proposed by that railroad.

Four More Agree To Cease Water Pollution in N. Y.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Two villages on the St. Lawrence River, a sewer district on Lake Erie and an industry on the Hudson River agree they will cease polluting those waters.

The agreements came Wednesday in anti-pollution hearings by the State Health Department.

The village of Alexandria Bay agreed to construct a sewage-treatment plant by June 1, 1969, and the village of Clayton, by Jan. 1, 1971. Both were charged with dumping sewage and industrial wastes into the St. Lawrence.

The Mt. Vernon sewer district in the town of Hamburg, Erie County, will construct a plant by Jan. 1, 1971, under a similar agreement. It was charged with polluting a stretch of Lake Erie shoreline, forcing the closing of the town beach.

The Huyck Corp. of Rensselaer, charged with polluting the Hudson River and Mill Creek, agreed to build its own treatment plant or contract with the city for the disposal of industrial wastes. Either method is to be in effect by Feb. 1, 1970.

Three other pollution hearings were adjourned to later dates — J. Hungerford Smith Co. Inc. of the village of Victor, Ontario County, to June 15; the village of Camillus, Onondaga County, to June 21, and the Hercules Powder Co. town of Queensbury, Warren County, to June 27.

Huge Rocket Test Duct Is Logistics Problem

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP)—As hydraulic jacks elevated highway and railroad bridges to allow clearance, a 113,000 pound duct wended its devious way today toward Jackass Flats, Nev.

The 107-foot-long unit, destined for use in experimental nuclear rocket tests, took three days to travel 130 miles from Wellsville to Binghamton. At one point Wednesday, its transportation crew worked 6½ hours to get it over a rail crossing.

The duct was built in Wellsville over a two-year period by Air Preheater Co. at a cost of $2.5 million.

The cumbersome unit was enroute today by flatbed trailer to Edgewater, N.J., where it will be shipped by freighter to Houston, Tex. From Houston, it will be towed overland again to Nevada.

Eventually, the complex duct will be delivered to authorities of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

To Open Road Bids

Governor Rockefeller today announced that the State Department of Public Works will open bids on June 30, for 33 projects with a total estimated cost of $51,098,000.

Included in these projects will be two area jobs: $7,310,000 for reconstruction of 14.85 miles of Route 23A in Greene County and $45,000 for the construction of a pedestrian walk over a bridge on Route 376 in Dutchess County between the towns of Poughkeepsie and Wappinger.

Regrets Refusal Of South Africa On RFK Newsmen

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP)—The International Press Institute expresses its profound regrets over the South African government's refusal to admit foreign newsmen to accompany Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., on his visit next month.

Per Mosen, the institute's Norwegian director, said the group "profoundly regrets the move as further evidence of the South African government's hostility to free access to news."

"This measure can only increase the isolation from the rest of the world which South Africa has to suffer," he said.

The South African Information Department said Wednesday it was keeping foreign newsmen away to prevent the visit from turning into a "publicity stunt" to promote Kennedy as a presidential candidate.

Kennedy was invited to address a multi-racial student group on a student-sponsored day celebrating freedom of conscience.

Federated Church Notes

KERHONKSON—The Church and Viet Nam was the topic of the Rev. Billy G. Vestal's sermon Sunday at the Federated Church. Senior choir sang the anthem and Mrs. Kenneth Tompkins, organist, presented the offertory.

The senior youth fellowship did not meet this week in order that the group might attend the sacred concert, which was held at the church from 7:30 p. m. to 9 p. m. The concert featured the senior, intermediate and junior choirs; sixth grade girls, with a solo by Lynn Hillson; solos by Arthur Harwood, accompanied by Mrs. Harwood; a hymn with guitar accompaniment; the Ladies' Quartet; a duet by Lucy and Tom Schoonmaker; the girls chorus, with a solo by Nancy Sommer; men's chorus; a cornet quartet; a piano solo by Linda Young; and a duet by Brenda and Wayne Mabie. The audience joined in the singing of the first and last hymns. A fellowship hour in the Fellowship Hall followed the concert.

This Thursday the senior choir meets at 7 p. m. for rehearsal. The Bible study group meets at 8 to 9:30 p. m.

Friday junior choir meets at 3:15 p. m. for rehearsal. The intermediate choir meets at 4 p. m. Next Sunday, May 29, the Rev. Mr. G. Vestal will bring the message on the topic A Letter To The Unknown Soldier.

The motion picture, Viet Nam Profile, will be shown on Sunday 7:30 p. m. in the American Legion Hall, Stone Ridge.

Next Wednesday, June 1, the Women's Society meets at 1 p. m. in the Fellowship Hall. Hostesses for the fellowship time are Mrs. Walter Bilyeu and Mrs. Elting Markle. Mrs. Stanley Christiana will be in charge of devotions. The roll call Bible verse should contain the word "faith."

Thursday, June 2, there will be a reception for the high school and college graduates from 7:30 to 9 p. m. in the Fellowship Hall.

Wednesday, June 8, is the final date for donation of clothing and bedding for Church World Service. The Women's Society is in charge of this collection. Articles may be left at the church any day from now until June 8.

Buffalo Man Killed

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Dr. Mark A. Petrino, 49, of Buffalo, was killed Wednesday night when struck by an automobile as he crossed a city street toward his parked car.

Police were seeking the driver of the car that struck Petrino. He lived at 702 E. Delevan Ave.

Cutter Spots Rowboat, Occupants Are O.K.

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — There's nothing wrong with Puffin, a westerly wind couldn't cure.

That was the word Wednesday from the Coast Guard cutter Conifer concerning the 15-foot rowboat in which two English journalists set out last Saturday to cross the Atlantic Ocean.

The Puffin was spotted by the Conifer about 10½ miles off Cape Charles on Virginia's eastern shore, its occupants in good condition.

David Johnstone, 34, and John Hoare, 29, were not ready to give up said Lt. T.D. Keith, the cutter's executive officer. He said their only needs were a dry chart and favorable winds.

When they set out from Virginia Beach the two rowers had hoped to reach St. Ives, England, in less than 55 days. But they have been hampered by southeast winds.

The Colorado River, at the southern tip of Nevada, forms the only natural boundary of the state.

To Attend Party

WASHINGTON (AP) — President and Mrs. Johnson attended a private farewell party Wednesday night for Thomas C. Mann, who is stepping down as undersecretary of state for economic affairs.

Other guests at the party, included Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Cabinet members. The Johnsons spent 40 minutes at the affair.

Regrets Newsmen Ban

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department says it regrets the South Africa government will not allow foreign newsmen to accompany Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., on his visit to that country June 5-9.

Press officer Robert J. McCloskey said: "We believe in the principle of the free flow of information and therefore regret foreign newsmen are being denied an opportunity to cover the visit of Sen. Kennedy."

See Tighter Controls

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tighter controls may be forthcoming on the $35 million federal outlay for foreign research activities.

Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., said the Budget Bureau reported that as a result of a study by a House subcommittee he heads "there may be a need to re-emphasize and reinforce limitations" on foreign research spending.

The Reuss subcommittee found nearly half of National Science Foundation postdoctoral fellows use their fellowship funds to study overseas while only 10 per cent of Public Health Service fellows study abroad. The PHS fellows must furnish evidence the training sought is best obtained abroad.

Seek Draft Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six Democratic senators have called for a congressional study of alternatives to the military draft.

Sen. Walter F. Mondale of Minnesota, who introduced the resolution, said the study should include such alternatives as the Peace Corps. Other sponsors were Sens. Ernest Gruening of Alaska, Fred H. Harris of Oklahoma, Joseph M. Montoya of New Mexico, William Proxmire of Wisconsin and Harrison A. Williams of New Jersey.

Capital Footnotes

The House sends to the Senate legislation to increase the size of the Coast Guard's officer corps from 3,500 to 4,000 and permit it to establish an aviation cadet program.

The Civil Aeronautics Board authorizes all domestic trunk airlines to discuss establishment of joint excursion fares to stimulate foreign travel to the United States.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., says the Senate Foreign Relations Committee's action cutting the foreign aid authorization period from five years to one year was "a severe setback for the more effective administration of economic aid."

Capital Quotes

"The notion that one can cause people to abandon their ideologies by inflicting pain on them should have died in Rome with the Christian martyrs."

Dr. Jerome Frank, professor of psychiatry at Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine, in testimony before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

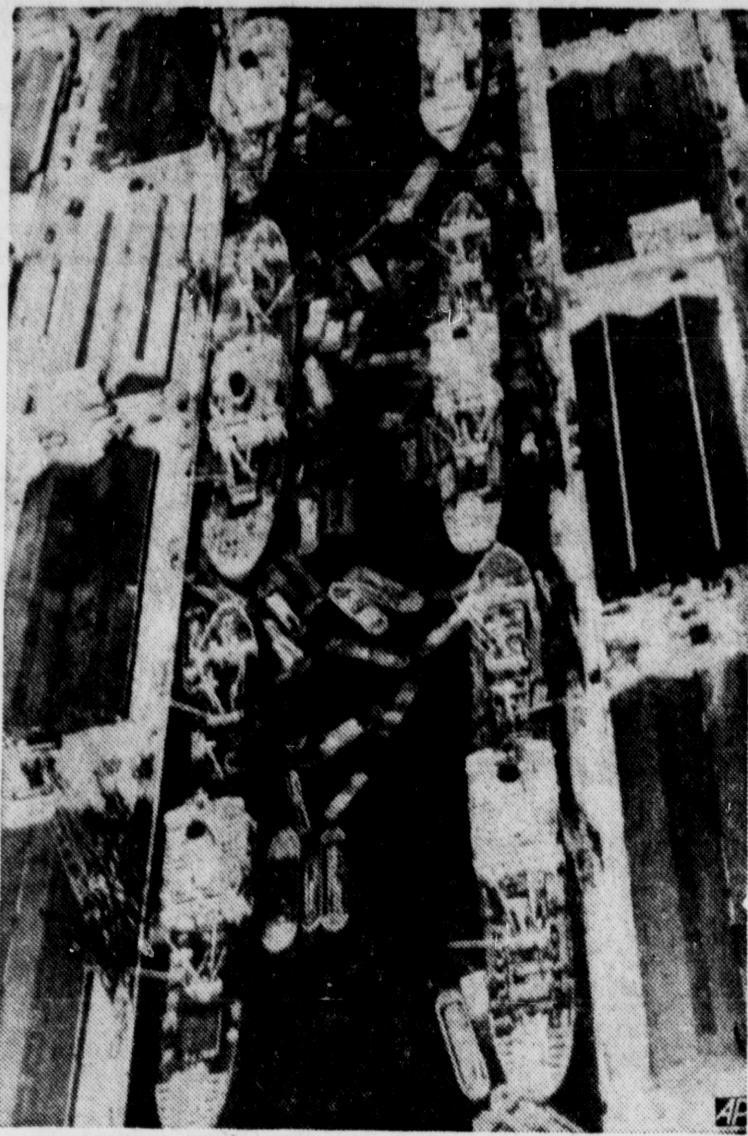

Compulsion Is Used On Uniform Orders

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department has been using a form of compulsion to get clothing manufacturers to fill nearly one-fifth of its military uniform orders since last July, Pentagon figures showed today.

This is in contrast to past wars when contractors scrambled for government orders.

The reason, Pentagon officials said, is now there are no wartime controls to limit the amount of material which can be devoted to the civilian market.

In the past 10 months, the Defense Supply Agency said, procurement officials issued 218 "rated orders" for uniform items out of a total of 1,157 contracts.

20 Are Killed, As Many Injured In Train Crash

BOMBAY, India (AP)—Twenty persons were killed and twenty others injured when the Bangalore-Poona express train was derailed this morning near Belgaum, 300 miles south of Bombay.

Officials said two of the injured were in critical condition. The train jumped the tracks and the engine and three passenger coaches overturned.

Gets $1.87 Million Pact

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — General Electric Co. has been awarded a $1.87 million contract for main-power transformers for the generating unit now under construction at Tennessee Valley Authority's Paradise Steam Plant in western Kentucky.

The four GE 420,000-KVA transformers will be manufactured in Pittsfield, Mass. They will feed power from the 1,150,000-kilowatt Paradise unit 3 to a new 500,000-volt line which will link the plant with Nashville, Tenn.

8 Unions Launch GE Bargaining, Plan Assailed

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (AP)

Eight labor unions are launching a combined bargaining drive with General Electric and Westinghouse that GE management calls a type of "Russian roulette."

Gordon M. Freeman, president of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, said a conference Wednesday to launch the drive was "part of the most comprehensive unified collective bargaining ever undertaken by the labor movement."

Uniting are the IBEW, the International Union of Electrical Workers, the International Association of Machinists, the American Federation of Technical Engineers, the Sheet Metal Workers, the Allied Industrial Workers, the American Flint Glass Workers, the United Auto Workers.

They represent about 180,000 employees of the two industries. Freeman spoke at the headquarters of local 301 of the IUE for the first of 17 conferences planned throughout the country before the start of negotiations.

Talks are due to begin Aug. 1 with GE and Aug. 15 with Westinghouse.

Management at the nearby GE plant, however, termed the plan a type of "Russian roulette" which would contribute to a needless strike.

A spokesman said GE would

Pollution, Tolls Are Commission Issues

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Water pollution and St. Lawrence Seaway tolls were major issues as the Great Lakes Commission opened its semi annual business session today.

Edgar D. Whitcomb of Seymour, Ind., the commission chairman, said he expected the eight-state organization to adopt a resolution opposing proposed increase in Seaway tolls.

He said the increases would discriminate against shipping since overland transportation does not encounter comparable tolls.

Whitcomb called the problem of pollution of the Great Lakes a "new area of great concern" and said, "we may wrestle a long time with it before making any sense."

The meeting continues through tomorrow.

Limit on Flags

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Flags of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the American Legion and the red feather of the Community Chest are among those that have waved atop the Maryland statehouse.

The Legislative Council Wednesday proposed a bill to permit the flying of only the U.S. and Maryland flags.

As the council acted, the flag of the Salvation Army flapped in the breeze atop the capitol dome.

Dad of 7 Dies In Flaming Crash

HOLLAND, N.Y. (AP)—A 38-year-old father of seven died today in his flaming automobile that, police said, had been struck in the rear by another car.

Jobie Ramsey of Holland, a community south of Buffalo, was trapped in the car.

Police said that after the car was struck, it bounced into a field, overturned and burst into flames.

The accident occurred on Route 16 near here. Police said Ramsey was about to turn left from the highway into a side road when his car was struck. He lived on the Holland-Glenwood Road.

In 1784, the University of the State of New York was founded.

Gallery on Green Schedules Opener

Spring has finally arrived in Woodstock, and the doors of the Gallery-on-Green will swing open again.

The first big art exhibition of the '66-season is now on the walls. The All-Membership Show of the Woodstock Artists Association opens with an inaugural party Friday, May 27, 4 to 6 p. m. The public is invited to the festivities and there is a small admission for non-members.

This show, traditionally the season opener, will include works in all media; and, as usual, it will throw light on active members' artistic endeavors during the past winter. The exhibition will continue until June 9. Gallery hours are 1 to 5:30 p. m. daily (except Tuesday), also Friday and Saturday from 7 to 9 p. m.

Set Certificates For 4 Youngsters

Four young people will receive certificates of recognition for having completed the second year of confirmation instruction at Christ's Lutheran Church, Woodstock, Sunday. They are: Holly Breitenbach, John Fogg, Karla Sieger and Betsy Warneke.

This quartet of students is the first in the local church to receive confirmation instruction under the new three-year pro-

Says Molecular Biology Key to Cancer Cure

NEW YORK (AP) — Taking a look ahead in medicine, a Nobel Prize scientist today said it isn't "idle day-dreaming" to expect: "The conquest of most or all viral diseases, the prevention of congenital birth defects, effective prevention and cure of cancers, and effective new treatments of many bodily disorders."

The key is molecular biology, particularly in the genetic code that determines all inherited characteristics and the way living molecules often behave, said Dr. Edward L. Tatum of Rockefeller University.

Tatum won a Nobel Prize in 1958 for a vital discovery in molecular biology — that genes regulate certain specific chemical processes in the body.

He is one of four Nobel Prize winners speaking at a symposium on the future of medicine, sponsored by Columbia University and the Merck Sharp & Dohme Research Laboratories. The company is dedicating new research facilities in Rahway, N.J., Friday.

gram recommended for all Lutheran churches of the Lutheran Church in America by the church's Board of Parish Education. One of the main goals of this new program is to give students a wide opportunity to understand the nature of commitment to Christ and the church so that such commitment may be enthusiastically made.

Confirmation at Christ Lutheran Church will be held on Pentecost Sunday in June of 1967.

To Raise Limit For Chargeable Accident to $100

Accidents occurring on or after July 1 involving $100 or less of property damage no longer will be assigned to a driver's record under the New York Safe Driver Insurance Plan, it was announced today by three insurance organizations.

The change is being made at the direction of the New York State Insurance Department, according to a spokesman for the bureaus. They are the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters, the National Automobile Underwriters Association and the Mutual Insurance Rating Bureau. They represent most of the companies in the state.

Presently, if an accident for which a driver is responsible results in $50 or more damage, he is assigned one point under the Safe Driver Plan. If it is his first point, he loses the 10 per cent safe driver reduction in his premium and pays a 10 per cent surcharge.

The bureaus explained that under the new rule—which applies to accidents occurring on or after July 1—the damage must exceed $100 to the insured's own property or exceed $100 to the property of others. This means, for example, that an accident resulting in $90 damage to the insured's car and $75 damage to the claimant's car would not be a chargeable accident since in neither case was the damage over $100. However, an insured with two or more property damage accidents, both under the $100 limit will be assigned one point under the Safe Driver Plan.

The bureaus said that the change will mean a loss of revenue in premiums which drivers otherwise would have paid as a result of losing their safe driver classification. The spokesman explained that such a loss of premiums eventually must be replaced through rate adjustments. Past accidents and any occurring before July 1 will be chargeable under the $50 rule. The new $100 rule will apply on both new and renewal policies.

Collections Day Late

Charles J. Cole, public Works superintendent, today issued a reminder that rubbish collections in the city will be a day late next week because of observance of Memorial Day Monday.

only to accidents occurring on or after July 1.

AT BIZARRE BAZAAR—Although the big bazaar sponsored by Performing Arts of Woodstock last weekend drew a large crowd interested in special games of skill, cold lemonade, getting a souvenir picture snapped with two actors dressed as Batman and Robin and attending the special children's show which featured mime antics, clowns and country music, old standbys like rummage rack dresses still proved popular. Looking over one of the prize selections of the day are (l-r) Mrs. Eugene Malkis, Mrs. Jo Chalmers and Mrs. Mike Rokoff, all members of the bazaar planning committee. (Freeman photo by Kruh.)

Need Volunteers For Blood Bank

An urgent appeal for blood donors has been issued to all residents of Woodstock to help the local community Blood Bank. The Woodstock Public Health Nursing Committee, which sponsors the blood bank, says the reserve supply has become very depleted over the past few months.

Following a special meeting of the committee recently Mrs. Arthur Jones, president of the organization, said "It is always very gratifying to know that in our community, blood is available during a crisis. Almost everyone has had someone near and dear to them, or know of someone else, who has needed blood at one time or another. We sincerely hope that all citizens of Woodstock between the ages of 18 and 55 in good health, and with no past history of hepatitis, malaria or anemia, will volunteer for this week's scheduled blood drawing."

The committee has set Thursday for its blood bank drawing. Volunteers should go to St. Gregory's Episcopal Church Hall from 5 to 8 p. m. Dr. Kenneth Bremer and several registered nurses and qualified technicians

ECW Lunch Election

The Episcopal Church Women of St. Gregory's held a luncheon meeting last week at Deane's. After lunch an election of officers for the ECW followed.

Elected were: President, Mrs. Paul Williams; vice-president, Mrs. Thomas Goldstone; secretary, Mrs. Ronald Hill; treasurer, Mrs. James Higginbotham; chairman of the United Thank Offering, Mrs. John Sharp; Mrs. Robert Kalcinski, chairman of supply; and publicity chairman, Mrs. John Branch.

Officers will be inducted at 10 a. m. services June 12 at St. Gregory's Episcopal Church, Woodstock.

Confirmation Tonight

Confirmation services will be held at St. Gregory's Episcopal Church, Woodstock, tonight at 8 o'clock. The Rt. Rev. J. Stuart Wetmore will visit St. Gregory's and confirm a class of children and adults. Following the Confirmation services, a reception will be held for Bishop Wetmore in the parish hall.

HINTS FROM Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Whenever I charcoal steaks for just the wife and me, I always put on a few extra steaks and partially charcoal them.

My wife puts these steaks in aluminum throwaway pie tins, covers them with foil, and stores them in the freezer.

Next time we get hungry for good charcoal broiled steaks, she turns her oven to 400 and bakes some potatoes 30 to 45 minutes (according to the size). Then she turns the oven down to 350 and puts in our steaks — still covered with the foil for about 20 minutes.

The nice part about this is... we have no pans to wash, and we have the taste of the charcoal steaks without building another fire etc.

Wonderful for small families or for people who live alone.
Mr. Vance

Dear Heloise:

With three females in my family, shampoo is used with abandon. In order to get that last bit out of the tube, I use a clip-type clothespin and hang the tube by its tail from the shower curtain rod.

The last bit of shampoo is right down there in the cap, ready to use.
Isabel C. Merriam

Dear Folks:

When going to a drive-in theatre, on picnic, or traveling, try putting juices in small screw-top jars for the children.

Remove the liner of the jar lid, punch a hole in the metal top with your ice pick, and replace the liner before capping the jar, so the juice won't leak out.

Then, when ready to use, remove the liner of the lid and insert a straw in that hole. You won't have spilled drinks all over your car seats, blankets, etc.

These empty jars could even be sterilized like baby bottles and carried in your glove compartment. Then when you go to a drive-in you could divide that malted or coke among your small children.

Dear Heloise:

The easiest way to keep track of the top of the butter dish is to leave it in the butter keeper in the refrigerator while using the butter.

This not only eliminates searching the counters for the cover when you are through with the butter, but also keeps the cover cold and the counter less cluttered.
Marcia Brandt

Dear Heloise:

Upon taking our three year old to his first movie, I discovered that he had trouble seeing over and around everyone in front of him. This made him quite discontented (and us, too, because of his squirming and complaining).

On our next trip to the theater, we took along his booster chair which is like the ones used in restaurants. This allowed him to sit higher so he could see the screen.

It made him happy and we all enjoyed the movie.
Mary Slinko

Dear Heloise:

Thanks for the tips on using cup hooks.

I just screwed a cup hook into a shelf in the closet, and use it to hang up my umbrella.
Dee Spray

Dear Heloise:

Owners of long-haired dogs may find this hint useful:

Two cocker spaniels later, I've discovered that instead of cutting around burrs and leaving the dog's coat looking moth-eaten in great patches, I simply cut and cut at the heart of the burr until they disintegrate and almost fall out.

If not, a gentle tug of combing will remove the single barbs. This method is less painful to all and much faster.

Gets New State Post

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Dr. John Cumming, director of the state's Syracuse Psychiatric Hospital, has been named deputy commissioner of mental health in the State Mental Hygiene Department. Cumming's appointment Wednesday to the $28,944-a-year job was effective immediately, but he will continue in his Syracuse work until September. Commissioner Alan D. Miller said Cumming would be responsible for programs for the mentally ill.

Heloise:

Letter of Laughter

Dear Heloise: After a week of roller skating by all the neighborhood children on our carport and driveway, folks wondered how I got the concrete so clean and white... or if we had poured new concrete.

The skating had done it! Of course, it left loose, white dust that was tracked into the house!

Lindsay Seen Antagonizing Lawmakers; Hurts Programs

By CHARLES DUMAS

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—New York's Mayor John V. Lindsay is developing a knack for antagonizing legislators—both in Albany and in his own city.

As a result, he has jeopardized the fate of programs that he regards as essential to effective administration of the nation's most problem-ridden metropolis.

Stirred Lawmakers

The new Republican mayor's comment about "political cowardice" in the Legislature—which stirred state lawmakers to new heights of indignation—was just one of a series of similar faux pas.

It inspired the Assembly's Republican minority leader, Perry B. Duryea Jr., to issue a demand that Lindsay apologize. And, even when Lindsay did so, Duryea continued to fume.

The Senate's easy-going GOP majority leader, Earl W. Brydges, also was moved to express his ire publicly. He chided Lindsay publicly for "intemperate" conduct.

The mayor's suggestion that cowardice might be motivating opposition to his mammoth tax program only served to undermine efforts to work out a reasonable compromise, Brydges said.

Lindsay made a special trip to Albany Tuesday to make peace with the legislative leaders. He apologized.

"And it wasn't the first time," Brydges told reporters.

The GOP leader undoubtedly had in mind a speech Lindsay made in late March. He threatened to "take to the streets" in the coming election campaign to remind voters that the "legislative gentlemen in Albany" were denying him the added taxing power he seeks.

"That's fine with me," said the Senate's Democratic minority leader, Joseph Zaretzki. "I'll introduce him in my district and he can tell everybody that I was reluctant to vote for higher taxes."

Later, when Lindsay met with Brydges in Albany, the GOP senator made a half-whimsical, half-sarcastic reference to action contemplated by the "legislative gentlemen."

Lindsay flushed and interjected, "I didn't mean you, Earl."

"Well," said Brydges, "I'm one of the legislative gentlemen."

Even as the Legislature dissolved into anger this week, Lindsay went before the City Council to demand its support of his plan to reorganize the city's transit system.

He pressed his argument so vigorously that several councilmen were moved to exasperation.

"I don't intend to put up with any intimidation from you," one of the irate councilmen told the mayor.

Visibly Subdued

Lindsay was visibly subdued after his peace-making conference in Albany. But Duryea obviously was not placated by the mayor's gesture.

Rank-and-file lawmakers were still simmering over the "cowardice" remarks.

An hour before the mayor arrived, Westchester Republican Joseph Pisani took the Assembly floor to chastise Lindsay.

"If, at times, he appears to crack under the strain," said Pisani, "an occasional outburst is understandable. But the latest one is a bit too much."

Republicans and Democrats alike applauded Pisani's speech heartily.

Guided Capitol Tour Still Best Bargain, 25 Cents

By L.T. EASLEY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The top cost of a guided tour through the United States Capitol still is what it was 90 years ago: 25 cents.

Up to 12,000 men, women and children take the tour each day, the largest crowds always showing up when spring comes to Washington.

So there are busy days for the 24 Capitol guides, says their captain, Calvin Kimbrough. He's 46, a Texan who became a guide 11 years ago with the help of the late House Speaker Sam Rayburn.

Up to 68 persons are in each group that walks along the marble corridors, listening to a running narrative on people and events, past and present, who have made or are making American history.

The limitation is set at 68 because that is the number of seats available for this type of tourist in the Senate and House galleries for spectators. A tour takes 35 minutes, and this includes five minutes in each chamber.

"We've had no inflation," Kimbrough said. "Twenty-five cents was the fee set when the guide service was initiated in 1876, to help mark the nation's centennial."

The 25-cent fee is for adults. Children under 10 with their parents make the tour free. Students pay 15 cents.

There were six guides in 1876. By the 1920s the number had been increased to 18, and in 1932 it was fixed at the present number of 24. There now are 13 women and 11 men on the force.

Guides usually get their jobs through patronage of senators or representatives but once on the job are quite secure and free of petty political influences.

The guides work a six-day week, rotating the Sunday shift.

Rocket Cleared, Astros Rehearse Tuesday's Launch

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (A)

With their Atlas target booster rocket cleared for launching, the Gemini 9 astronauts today rehearse for next Tuesday's second attempt at a rendezvous and space walk mission.

Air Force Lt. Col. Thomas P. Stafford and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Eugene A. Cernan climb into their spacecraft to repeat a simulated flight exercise they ran two weeks ago before their abortive first launching attempt.

They had their flight postponed when an Atlas hurling an Agena target satellite toward orbit suffered engine failure and the $13 million rocket fell into the Atlantic Ocean.

A review board Wednesday reported the trouble was caused by an electrical short in a hydraulic valve system valve.

"It essentially was a quality problem — unique in the Atlas," said Charles A. Matthews, Gemini program manager.

Officials said the Atlas that is to boost Gemini 9's substitute target satellite successfully has passed the new tests.

Another Agena was not available for the quick two week reschedule. So a smaller, less sophisticated satellite was placed atop the Atlas. It is called an Augmented Target Docking Adapter.

The Atlas is to hoist the ATDA at 11 a. m. (EDT) Tuesday, with the astronauts to follow at 12:30 p. m. aboard a Titan 2 rocket. Stafford and Cernan will attempt to catch and dock with the ATDA after a four-hour chase.

Ford Confirms '67 Specialty Auto

DETROIT (AP)—Henry Ford

II Wednesday confirmed reports that Lincoln-Mercury Division will market a new specialty car, the Cougar, in its 1967 line.

Ford and Arjay Miller, Ford president, disclosed details of the plan.

They said the Cougar "will fill a separate niche in the specialty car market" and added, "It follows the specialty car theme of the Thunderbird and Mustang fitting into a large market between them."

Ford said the new car "will offer more flair and sophistication than the present Mustang... it will be about nine inches longer and three inches wider and will be more roomy, more luxurious and will sell for more money."

Soybean Complaint

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department is investigating a complaint that an unauthorized and premature disclosure of President Johnson's plans to increase soybean acreage this year permitted a speculator to make "a pile of money."

This became known Wednesday after an investigator of the department's Office of Inspector General — an agency set up after the Billie Sol Estes scandals — questioned newsmen regarding their handling of the President's announcement.

Johnson told Congress in a special message Feb. 10 that he had instructed Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman to encourage production of soybeans on land formerly planted to surplus grains. The plan was part of the President's food for peace program outlined that day.

Short, Short Skirts Out

OXFORD, England (AP) — The girls at Oxford have been ordered not to wear the currently fashionable short, short skirts under their academic gowns during examinations.

Said Dean Mary Proudfoot of Somerville, the women's colleges:

"Short skirts are rather fun. But the girls would look incongruous in academic dress with skirts halfway up their thighs. The skirts might also take the men's minds off their exams."

Men and women undergraduates take their examinations together.

Despite Protests Students Record Policy Support

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP)—Despite recent demonstrations on the Cornell University campus against the military draft and the war in Viet Nam, Cornell students were on record today in basic support of the nation's policies.

In an opinion poll conducted by the student government, 6,635 students voted that decided: — It is within a university's function to administer the draft-deferment Selective Service test, 4,423 to 2,128.

The United States should neither call a cease fire nor withdraw American troops from Viet Nam, 3,317 to 3,118.

— The United States should support free election in South Viet Nam, 5,665 to 906.

The voters, a little more than half of the 12,790 students eligible to vote, also endorsed the university's right to compute class standings to determine eligibility for the draft.

They voted, however, that the U.S. should halt bombing raids on North and South Viet Nam and that U.S. support should be withdrawn from Premier Nguyen Cao Ky.

The anti-war demonstrations first began a year ago when a group of students blocked an ROTC graduation ceremony.

A student group started a fund drive to aid the Viet Cong last December, and protests against holding the Selective Service test on campus have flared intermittently this spring.

75 Are Returning Today to GE Jobs

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP)—About 75 production workers in the Large Steam Turbine-Generator Department at the General Electric Co. headed back to work today after a three-day strike.

The workers members of the International Union of Electrical Workers AFL-CIO left their jobs Monday in a dispute over work assignments.

R.W. Brearton a spokesman for GE said Wednesday that the decision to return came after a meeting "between company and union officials this morning and telephone discussions between them this afternoon."

"It's too bad this needless loss of pay and loss of production occurred," he said. The walkout the fourth strike in the department this year was in support of nine employees who left their jobs last Friday. The nine claimed they were required to perform an additional operation, another GE spokesman said.

Cancer Society Doing Chicken Disease Research

If you faced a $100-million-a-year problem in your business would you consider it wise to invest less than one-tenth of one percent of that amount to learn if something could be done about it?

Granted, the American Cancer Society has certain problems of its own, but it has seen fit to make just such an investment in an effort, not to directly further its own ends, but to aid a vitally needed enterprise—the American poultry industry.

$50-$100 Yearly Cost

For years, poultrymen have been perplexed and distressed by losses in stock due to disease, and which best estimates place at $50 million to $100 million annually, and this, as the saying goes, "aint chicken feed."

This particular disease, after many years, was diagnosed as cancer. It was further determined that the cancer in chickens was caused by a certain group of viruses.

Since March 1964, Dr. Robert M. Dougherty associate professor of microbiology at the Upstate Medical Center, Syracuse, has been conducting an investigation of these viruses under two American Cancer Society grants totalling $69,844.

The second grant of $32,435 expires in December 1966. The project is titled, "A Study of Variation in Avian Tumor Viruses."

According to Dr. Dougherty, the project is aimed at defining some of the chemical and biological properties, under natural conditions, of the viruses under study to arrive at a classification to permit ready recognition and an understanding of how they cause cancer.

Hopes Study Will Help

He is hopeful that the study will add to 'already available knowledge about tumors in general. What application these data might have to cancer in man is conjectural, since the chicken viruses have never been found in humans, as far as is known.

Like the majority of scientists, Dr. Dougherty is cautious when asked if a breakthrough appears on the horizon in regard to cancer in chickens.

"Right now," he says, "we're concerned with learning all we can about the properties of these viruses—how they act and why. If we are fortunate enough to come up with sufficient information, who can foresee what will happen after that?" Perhaps the solution to a $100-million-a-year problem.

UCCC Accepts 250 For Fall Term

Although applications for registration this year are running ahead of last year, there still are openings in some programs for students desiring to register. Dr. Dale B. Lake, Ulster County Community College President, said today.

"Registration has been heavy," Dr. Lake said, "but there still are openings in some programs for graduating high school seniors desiring to go to the community college next fall."

Dr. Lake said more than 550 applications have been received to date for new incoming full-time students at UCCC for next September. In addition, more than 300 returning full-time students have pre-registered for next September.

To date, 250 incoming students have been accepted for next fall. Dean of Students Donald G. Crout said the college now is at the point it was at in mid-September last year in terms of applications for admittance.

Crout said the increase in enrollment applications can be attributed to a larger number of graduating high school seniors and more interest on the part of students to attend the community college.

Charities Fund Drive Nears Goal

Auxiliary Bishop George H. Guilfoyle, executive director of New York Catholic Charities, announced today that on the basis of returns to date the organization's 1966 Fund Appeal had already attained 73 percent of its overall goal of $3,700,000.

Contributions amounting to $2,709,490 have been thus far received through the house-to-house canvass of Catholic families in the 403 parishes of the Archdiocese and through the solicitation of special gifts by the Cardinal's Committee of the Laity. The amount raised at this point of the campaign is higher than in any previous year.

Under the chairmanship of John A. Coleman, the special gifts committee will continue throughout the year its solicitation of individuals in business and the professions. The parish appeal and the special gifts canvass are the major sources of the more than five million dollars that will be needed for the operation of Catholic Charities in 1966.

Set Ellenville Hospital Group Lunch June 6th

The Ellenville Community Hospital Auxiliary luncheon and fashion show will take place Monday, June 6 at the Fallsview Hotel. It is anticipated that the event will become an annual event of the auxiliary year.

"We anticipate a marvelous attendance," noted Mrs. Lou Resnick and Mrs. Joseph Levine, co-chairman of the event to benefit the Community Hospital.

"There are 500 tickets out," Mrs. Resnick said, "and we have 45 women on our ticket committee."

Ticket sales are most encouraging, the chairman noted. "It would facilitate matters if women planning to attend the luncheon would purchase their tickets or make their reservations in advance," the chairman announced.

The luncheon committee has also extended invitations to auxiliary leaders in the region to attend the luncheon. "We hope that this will be a beginning of many events in which we share good ideas with one another," an ECH auxiliary stated. "We hope that we get representation from at least several of our neighboring hospital auxiliaries."

Planners have announced that a special weight-waiters tree will be offered to those who do not wish to partake of the special luncheon menu prepared by the Fallsview.

Area women will serve as models for the Murial King fashion show which will highlight the afternoon.

Kennedy Will Urge Javits Endorsement

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — U.S. Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, a Democrat, said today he would urge the Democrats to endorse U.S. Sen. Jacob K. Javits, a Republican, as part of a non-partisan slate for the state constitutional convention next April.

Javits has said he would be willing to head a Republican slate. Kennedy has said he would be honored to be a candidate.

Kennedy argued against partisan slates in letters to the editors of newspapers in the state. "Clearly," Kennedy said, "there are 15 names in this state of sufficient stature and integrity so that representatives of the Democratic, Liberal and Republican parties can agree on their designation."

Doing The Right Thing

By ELIZABETH L. POST

WHAT TO DO WITH THE CHANGE-CHISELER DINES OR DOLLARS, DISCOURAGE THE HABIT

Dear Mrs. Post: The girls in my office are almost all congenial, but we have a problem. One of the newer employees is a "borrower." Not a day goes by that she doesn't ask some one for a nickel for a pack of gum, or a dime to make a phone call. This doesn't sound like much, but it adds up when it happens all the time, and she never pays us back. We don't want to create an unpleasant atmosphere in a nice office, but we're burned up and we don't know what to do—Marian Saunders.

Dear Miss Saunders: Firmness is the key word in dealing with the borrower. If all of you girls agree to have a good excuse ready, "Sorry, I forgot my change purse," or "I'm going to make a call myself," and stick to your guns, she'll soon get the message and start to carry her own dime.

House Presents To Make A Hostess Happy

Dear Mrs. Post: Could you suggest some gifts which would be appropriate as house presents? I have been invited to spend a weekend at the home of a hostess whose house is beautifully furnished and the usual ornament or ash tray would be truly superfluous.—Vera W.

Dear Vera: A new book or a good record album makes an ideal house present. No hostess can have too many. If she gardens, she will appreciate amusing work gloves, a plant that can be set outdoors when the blooms are gone, or even packets of seeds or bulbs. Candy or home-made cookies will please the whole family, and if there are small children, a novel game or a little toy for each will make a great hit.

Must She Return Phone Calls?

Dear Mrs. Post: If a friend telephones me when I am out, is it necessary to return her call when I get home? I didn't do this and have been accused of being rude. Was I?—Julie.

Dear Julie: Unless she asked that you return her call, it wasn't absolutely necessary, but it would have been friendlier to do so. While you weren't actually rude, you might lose a lot of friends if you don't make the effort to return their calls.

Details concerning the announcement of an engagement are described in the booklet entitled, "Announcing the Engagement." If you would like a copy, send ten cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Elizabeth L. Post, in care of this newspaper.

Pack 20 Meets Friday

It was announced today that the next pack meeting will be held at the old Indian camp grounds in back of the Reformed Church in Hurley Friday at 7:15 p. m. This will be the last meeting for the Pack 20 Cub Scouts this spring. All Cubs and their parents are asked to attend. It will be a council fire. As last year, the program will be of interest to Cub and Parent alike.

Alfred Douglass will present Indian lore and a dance program. Although he was born and raised in Philadelphia, his father was a full-blooded Cherokee Indian from Oklahoma. Douglass is now an elementary school teacher in New Paltz. His program will include dances and stories of different Indian tribes. Cubs may participate in one of two of the dances and will include a brief informal question and answer period.

Richard Rioux, Cubmaster, reminds Cubs and Fathers that June 11 will be Father-and-son Day, with an outing at Camp Tri-Mount. They will meet at the Reformed Church on that day at 10 a. m.

Nurses Return To N. Y. Posts

NEW YORK (AP) — The city's public health nurses return to work today in full strength after settlement of a three-day walkout by more than 450 of their 482 work force.

The labor dispute disrupted health services for more than 2,500 preschool children who normally receive medical care and immunizations daily at health stations. During the work stoppage, 67 of the city's 94 child health stations were forced to close.

Mayor John V. Lindsay announced agreement Wednesday night on a two-and-a-half year contract between the city and the nurses. He expressed "great gratification" at their return to work.

Work stopped almost completely when only a handful of the nurses reported for duty Wednesday. Before that 282 nurses resigned to dramatize their demands for higher wages. Others stayed away from work in sympathy.

Under the new contract, the nurses are due to get an immediate $700 a year increase, retroactive to Jan. 1, another $350 July 1, and an additional $350 Jan. 1, 1967. The increase over the 2½-year period will bring their salary to a minimum of $7,100 and a maximum of $8,900.

The nurses now receive $6,050 a year. The city granted a $7,100 annual wage last week to head nurses in municipal hospitals.

The new contract also increases the hours the nurses work, from the present 35 hours a week to 37½ hours. Lunch hours will be cut from one hour to 30 minutes.

Presby Head to Press For Christian Unity

BOSTON (AP) — The new chief executive of the United Presbyterian Church of the U.S.A. was pledged today to press for Christian unity and for vigorous application of the faith to the problems of modern society.

"We dare not permit our churches to be enclaves of refuge and safety from the world," says William Phelps Thompson, the first layman named to the top leadership of his denomination in this century.

A trim, 5-foot-11 man, with a ready wit and a level gaze, Thompson was elected stated clerk of the 3.3-million-member denomination Wednesday in its first change-over in administration in 15 years.

He is to succeed the Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, one of the nation's leading Protestants, who resigned to become general secretary of the World Council of Churches.

Sentiment Strong In Senate for Europe Cutback

WASHINGTON (AP) — There is strong sentiment in the Senate for reducing U.S. troop commitments to North Atlantic Treaty Organization nations, an Associated Press survey disclosed today.

Forty-four senators said they favored eventual withdrawal of a substantial portion of the six U.S. divisions of 225,000 American fighting men massed along the Iron Curtain.

But of this group, only 15 said they would cut U.S. forces to a token level of one division at this time as suggested recently by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield.

Oppose Toll Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — A proposed increase of 10 per cent in toll charges on the St. Lawrence Seaway is opposed by Rep. Alec G. Olson, D-Minn.

Such an increase, he said in a statement, would endanger seriously the prospects for developing the full potential of Midwestern agriculture and industry.

He prepared the statement for a hearing scheduled for June 8 in Chicago by the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp. to determine rates for seaway shipping in the next five years.

Olson said the outlook for the development of agriculture and industry in Minnesota is favorable, adding:

"This has been made possible to a large extent by new markets made accessible by the St. Lawrence Seaway."

An increase in shipping rates, Olson said, would discourage use of the Seaway by area shippers and make it impossible for "our farmers" to compete favorably with growers in other areas.

Port Ewen Sets Fire Protection Survey June 1st

A team of engineers from the New York Fire Insurance Rating Organizations will inspect the fire defenses of Port Ewen during the week of June 1, 1966, Secretary of the Board of Fire Commissioners, Harry B. Van Ormer, announced today.

The engineers will examine all phases of the fire defense facilities here. The results of the study will be used in determining this community's fire protection classification which is employed for underwriting purposes by insurance companies affiliated with NYFIR. This classification, together with the "key rate," is also used as a starting point for setting fire insurance rates for residential, commercial and industrial properties. The present grade number is 6.

The engineers will meet with municipal officials at the morning of Wednesday, June 1, to outline inspection procedures and answer any questions.

Upon completion of the study, the Public Protection Department of the Fire Insurance Rating Organization will draw up a report which will include comments and recommendations concerning Port Ewen's fire protection services, the Secretary said.

The survey will be made without cost to the community.

The house at 106 St. James Street, owned by Herbert Cutler, dates from about 1840 and is an example of careful and knowledgeable restoration. It is typical of the small town house of the early nineteenth century, with front and back parlors and folding glass doors. Of particular interest here is Mr. Cutler's conservatory at the back of the house, where he has a large collection of camellias; the conservatory overlooks the small formal garden which is laid out with boxwood edging the lawns and the brick paths. Refreshments will be served here.

In the Stone Ridge area three country houses will be on view: that of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hansen, Feather Farm, near enport on Leggett Road, Stone Ridge, and the home of General and Mrs. Sherman V. Hasbrouck on Buck Road near Krippelbush.

The original part of the Hasbrouck house dates from the early 18th century. By 1834 it is known that the house was serving as a tavern on the old Turnpike which at that time ran along the banks of the Rondout. The Doverkill runs into the Rondout just below the house, and on the sloping bank between riverfront and house Mrs. Hansen has made a wildflower garden of many native plants collected through the years. This house has outstanding collections of pewter and American glass and china. Herb plants will be for sale here.

Lang Syne Restoration

The house owned by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Davenport on Leggett Road is a restoration of the original house which had stood on this property for 128 years.

The name, Lang Syne, was the early name of the village of Stone Ridge. The house is of fieldstone and clapboard and is furnished with family heirlooms and period pieces collected by the owners. The pool beyond the sloping lawn is a natural one, fed by springs, and the marshy fields beyond it are a haven for birds. Refreshments will also be served here.

General and Mrs. Sherman Hasbrouck's house, off Buck Road, is a reproduction of the more formal type of stone house found in the Hudson Valley during the late eighteenth century. All of the pine and oak boards used in the beams, woodwork, paneling, and floors, and the black walnut of the stair-rail and treads, were cut on this property or in nearby Stone Ridge.

Here are many fine American and English antiques and a large collection of furniture, rugs, and bibelots gathered by the owners

On their travels around the world. Steps built around an old millstone lead up to a grass terrace and sweeping lawns, with perennial borders and rose and herb gardens, all laid out and cared for by the owners themselves. At this house there will be a sale of gourmet foods, featuring homemade breads and cake, casseroles, salads, and jams and jellies.

Herblore, Recipes Offered

On sale at all of the houses will be a booklet of herblore and recipes collected by Garden Club members and friends, and gaily decorated gardening hats.

Tickets will be on sale at all six houses on the day of the tour. They may also be purchased in advance from any member of the Garden Club, or from Mrs. Terry Staples, Maiden-on-Hudson, who is general chairman of the project.

All of the proceeds of the tour will go into the Ulster Garden Club's Memorial Tree-Planting Fund. Established a little over two years ago, the Tree-Planting program is maintained with funds allocated by the Garden Club and with contributions from service clubs and other interested organizations, as well as from individuals. To date about 70 shade trees have been planted on Kingston streets with funds from this project.

PLAN GARDEN TOURS — The lovely gardens of the Herbert Cutler residence at 106 St. James Street are the fitting setting for an Ulster Garden Club committee meeting. The group is planning a house terrace tour and bazaar June 11 from 1:30 to 5:30 p. m. Included will be three houses in Stone Ridge and three in Kingston. One of the features of the Cutler garden is a lead statue at the end of the garden walk which is a reproduction of Verrocchio's Boy with Dolphin. The stone base of the statue was originally part of the limestone and iron fence which stood for many years in front of the Fair Street Reformed Church. At the planning session are Mrs. Terry Staples, chairman; Mrs. Herbert Shultz, co-chairman and Mrs. Herbert Gade, ticket co-chairman. (Freeman photo by Wagen-

Details Given For Garden Club Tour on June 11

The Ulster Garden Club will sponsor a house and terrace tour and bazaar Saturday, June 11, from 1:30 to 5:30. There will be three houses on view in Kingston, with their terraces and gardens, and three in the Stone Ridge area. Those in Kingston are owned by Mrs. Sam Bernstein, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Davis, and Herbert Cutler.

The garden of Mrs. Bernstein at 173 Pearl Street was designed by the owner with ease of upkeep in mind and features perennials and an extensive growth of ivy. Mrs. Bernstein and her late husband were notable collectors, and of great interest in the house are their collection of enamel patch boxes and Sandwich glass. In the basement room off the terrace is a large collection of Americana: furniture, prints, and china.

There will be a novelty sale at this house, which will feature vases and other containers for flower arrangements, antiques, and books on flower arranging and gardening.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Davis's house and terrace at 10 Burgin Street were planned by Mr. Davis, a landscape architect, to utilize to the best advantage the natural contour of the land. To achieve this the low-lying land beyond the patio and outdoor dining area has been terraced into a garden, using a brick retaining wall, and the stairs leading down to this lower level form one side of a miniature swimming pool.

Of French-Norman Tradition

The house is in the French-Norman farmhouse tradition with its whitewashed brick and varying interior levels and ceiling heights. This garden, too, was planned for easy maintenance and over the years flowers have gradually been replaced with shrubbery and groundcover. Plants and seedlings will be on sale at this house.

The house at 106 St. James Street, owned by Herbert Cutler, dates from about 1840 and is an example of careful and knowledgeable restoration. It is typical of the small town house of the early nineteenth century, with front and back parlors and folding glass doors. Saugerties Upsets Poughkeepsie, 6-5

Saugerties High put a crimp into the pennant aspirations of Poughkeepsie by dealing the Pioneers a stunning, 6-5, setback Wednesday at the SHS diamond.

In other circuit tests, streaking Lourdes nipped Wappingers, 6-5; Beacon topped Arlington, 2-1; and Roosevelt walloped Cardinal, 11-2.

Doug Covert limited the Pioneers to six hits and his mates gave him some solid support in the field. Loser Ed Boone had three of the safeties off Covert.

Coach Pete Kramer's defending champions clinched the contest in the seventh on a walk, a forceout and Ed Magyar's triple to deep right center. The shot broke a 5-3 deadlock.

Covert, in going the distance, walked four and fanned two. Boone was touched for 10 safeties, walked three and struck out six.

The Sawyer jayvees were also successful, beating Poughkeepsie, 9-2, behind the pitching of Mike Turek.

Saugerties closes its season Friday with a home engagement against Cardinal Farley.

IRVING KALISH,

Adjourn Bailey Hearing to June, Also Shift Job

Special City Judge George A. Beck today adjourned to next month hearing of a first degree manslaughter charge against a downtown man and of third degree burglary charges against two held for alleged theft of more than $3,000 worth of merchandise from the Kingston Shirt Co., Inc., 45 Pine Grove Avenue.

Daniel Hill Bailey, 32, of 167 Abel Street, was booked Sunday on the manslaughter charge, police said, after his wife died of injuries said to have resulted from a beating during a domestic quarrel. No bail was fixed and he remains in jail. Attorney Francis Martocci was assigned by the court to represent him.

Charles Eastment, 26, of 127 Congress Street, Brooklyn, and James LaBeaue, 17, formerly of Spring Lake Trailer Camp, were booked this week on the burglary charges.

Police allege that they had loaded 121 dozen men's dress shirts in a rented U-Haul truck. Entrance to the building was reported gained by rolling up an overhead door at the rear of the plant. The shirts had been boxed and ready for shipment.

Patrolmen, who were on their trail after a tipoff, stopped the truck at Mary's Avenue and West O'Reilly Street.

Attorney Charles J. Saccoman has been assigned to represent LaBeaue and Norman Kellar appears for Eastment, with Assistant District Attorney James H. Fisher for the prosecution. Bail, fixed at $500 cash or $1,000 property, has not been posted.

Bailey is due in court again June 2 and Eastment and LaBeaue on June 6.

much of his busy schedule to bringing spiritual assistance and guidance to the men at Wallkill Prison, as well as to those at the Eastern Correctional Institution at Nanaucho and the State Vocational School at West Coxsack, Greene County. Wilson said that Rabbi Bloom's devotion to duty as the Jewish chaplain of the three area penal institutions was only one of the many civic duties performed by the late religious leader, but it was a duty which will long be remembered by the many men to whom Rabbi Bloom brought both religious inspiration and a renewed hope for the future.

Assemblyman Wilson noted that the Chaplaincy Commission of State Board of Rabbis, whose services are made possible by the Federation of Jewish Philanthropies, will be joining with Dr. Walter M. Wallack, warden of Wallkill Prison, representatives of the New York State Department of Correction, and the staff of Wallkill Prison, as well as many leading citizens from throughout the area, to take part in the formal dedication ceremonies which will be held in the Wallkill Prison Synagogue on June 8.

Owners Advised On Work Before Street Repairs

Charles J. Cole, local public works superintendent, noting today that this year's street repair program is due to start within a week, advised property owners who might have sub-structure work to be done to start it before workmen begin repair of their street.

If any work requiring street excavation is to be done, he said, and is completed in advance of street repair, no pavement replacement charge will be levied against a property holder.

Sixteen streets are listed for repair and it is planned to start drainage work on Old Orchard Lane near the John F. Kennedy School and on the Boulevard starting at Lawton Park and some 500 feet north. Also scheduled for an early start is preliminary work on Foxhall Avenue from Hasbrouck Avenue to Shufeldt Street. The latter is the largest project on the list.

Other streets due for repair are: Brown Avenue; Bruyn Avenue from Cornell Street to the railroad tracks; West Chestnut Street; Melvin Drive to Augusta Street; Montrose Avenue; West Chester to West Chestnut; South Greenkill Avenue; Sterling Street to Clinton Avenue; Tammany Street; East Chester Street to Clifton Avenue; First Avenue from Hooker Street for nine-tenths of a mile; Hunter Street; Wurts to Post; Terrace Street; Beckett Street; Merritt and Valentine Avenues and drainage on North Street.

Permits Rail

ble for the entire movement by rail and truck.

The railroad estimated that each terminal will be designed to hold up to 200 cars with an anticipated transfer of about 200 truck loads per day at each terminal. Necessary arrangements for the sampling of cargo to assure its quality will be made at terminal points. In addition to moving commodities in its own cars, the railroad said it will accept shipper-owned cars and that it is designing new grain cars which will have 100-ton capacity. Vacuum devices will be provided at terminal points for the easy unloading of cars which are not of the pressure differential type.

Railroad witnesses estimated that its Flexi-Flot traffic during the next year, both interstate and intrastate, will approximate 65 million pounds of chemicals, six million pounds of edibles and 1.4 million pounds of grain concentrate animal feeds, with most of the latter to be intrastate from Buffalo. It also anticipates large quantities of flour and of industrial materials. The three carriers whose operating rights were expanded today each have extensive operations in New York State but lacked the broad authority to engage in an operation such as New York Central has now proposed.

Examiner's Report

In a report to the commission, Examiner James T. Brady says: "Flexi-Flot is designed to offer to shippers an intermodal service combining the advantages of rail transportation and of motor truck delivery of liquid and dry commodities in bulk. An additional advantage to shippers would be the use of the rail car as an inexpensive storage point pending sales or calls by customers for delivery. A sampling and testing service to be offered by Central will eliminate the necessity for the shipper to have personnel present at the point of transfer to perform such sampling or testing. Each of the shippers supporting the application expresses enthusiasm over the availability of the contemplated service." He adds:

"Central and each of the applicants are satisfied that the proposed operation will be profitable despite the large initial capital outlays that must be made by any carriers participating. It is reasonable to assume that they will be adequately compensated. The greatest encouragement to use individual initiative should be given the regulated carriers consistent with the public interest and the policy declared in the Public Service Law."

Endorsing the proposed new transportation system in testimony at the hearings were companies which provide raw materials for the manufacture of feed and yeast, and processors of sugar (both liquid and granular), bakery supplies, chemicals (including dry plastics), fertilizers, animal and poultry feeds and other bulk commodities all of whom have terminals throughout New York State at such points as Albany, Buffalo, Cortland, Syracuse, Binghamton and various other transportation centers.

director and Richard Rydstrom, of 151 Smith Avenue, secretary-treasurer.

The local Jaycees also named directors at the annual election meeting. Serving in this capacity will be Mark Meier, of 263 Broadway, Port Ewen; Mark Arnold, of 84 Fairmont Avenue and Grady Montgomery, 3 North Front Street. Also serving on the board will be the immediate past president, James Bishop, of 25 Court Avenue.

New officers will be installed at the annual installation dinner to be held June 11 at Oehler's Mountain Lodge.

Progress Group

rectors, Sillin said, in selecting nominees, it was our intent to seek directors who could make a contribution to the balanced development of the Mid-Hudson region in accordance with the stated objectives of the organization. It was our desire to have as broad and diverse representation on the Board as possible. The newly elected Directors represent outstanding abilities in such fields as education, conservation, government, communications, planning, construction, banking, labor, business and the professions.

"Our desire is to develop balanced programs for the region that will give proper recognition to conservation, education, culture and economic development. This will make it important that each director exercise patience and good faith, and an understanding of problems and responsibilities not directly related to his or her particular field of interest."

Reviews Development

During the course of his remarks, Sillin reviewed the development of Mid-Hudson Pattern for Progress and pointed out that during the past year the activities of the organization have been related to organization, financing and staffing. He said, "Obviously, our programming has had to wait until we have completed these tasks."

He emphasized that the response to the fund drive has been gratifying, and that the organization is well on its way towards achieving its goal of $150,000 for operating funds. Earlier in the meeting, Beery had reported about $115,000 already received or pledged from individuals and corporations in the seven-county region.

Sillin also reported that a Selection Committee has been "working diligently and effectively to obtain the best man available" for the position of president of Pattern for Progress. He said, "We expect to be in a position to make an announcement very soon."

The president would serve as the chief executive officer of Pattern for Progress and would be responsible for the supervision of its professional staff and for the development of the plans and projects undertaken by the organization.

In looking to the kinds of programs that Pattern for Progress will be undertaking, Sillin cited a Higher Education Study currently being undertaken by Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp. He said that "no single factor could contribute more to the beautification and wise use of the natural resources of the region while at the same time contributing to its economic growth than the expansion of higher educational opportunities."

Sillin explained that when the in-depth study is completed, it will be submitted to the board of directors of Pattern for Progress for its review and action. In the future, this type of study will be conducted by the Pattern organization.

Urge Polio Shots

Ulster County Board of Health today urged Ulster County Chapter of the National Polio Society to urge the public to get polio vaccine free of charge for use in our Health Department clinics.

"As we have stated to you previously, the fact that Ulster County has gone for several years without a case of polio is undoubtedly due in part to the use of the vaccine supplied by your chapter."

"We are fortunate that the county has within its borders a unit such as your Chapter of the National Foundation ready and willing to serve its people. Vernon B. Link, MD, commissioner of health."

Both Mr. Kaplan and Mr. Kelly announced that final figures on the 1966 drive will be published as soon as the funds have been audited.

Finally, it was stated that since the summer season was upon us, it was most important that persons not yet vaccinated attend to this as soon as possible.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market recovery pushed into its fifth straight session early this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

The list advanced on balance despite profit taking which clipped some of the recent big gainers.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 4 at 325.0 with industrials up .8, rails up .1 and utilities up .1. Gains of fractions to a point or so among leading issues outnumbered losers.

Coppers, aerospace issues and steels were among the stronger groups. Airlines faltered as traders took some quick profits.

President Johnson's remarks today were interpreted as adding evidence that the administration is unlikely to seek higher taxes in the immediate future. This followed a softer stand taken by the Federal Reserve Board chairman, William McChesney Martin, on a possible tax boost.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 3.12 at 893.54.

Prices advanced in active trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate and U.S. government bonds were generally unchanged.

Fear Traffic

you. You know what you're going to do but the driver behind you doesn't. You slow down suddenly for a turn and—crunch!

You could have lessened chances for this accident taking place by:

A—Signaling your intentions well before reaching the point of potential collision.

B—By accelerating quickly just before turning.

C—By watching the vehicle behind you in the rear view mirror and veering sharply to the right and over the curb when you see a collision is imminent.

D—By watching the vehicle in your rear view mirror and veering over the center line to the left.

Oncoming Car in Your Lane
Situation No. 3.—as you drive along an oncoming car drifts into your lane or starts a left turn in front of you. Or a car coming toward you crosses the center line into your lane. These situations all can mean a head-on collision the deadliest crash of all.

Such a crash possibly could have been avoided by:

A—Stopping your vehicle immediately.

B—Yielding your lane to the oncoming vehicle; you switch to his lane.

C—Speeding up and getting past the oncoming vehicle before he comes all the way over into your lane.

D—Pull to the right flash your lights blow your horn wake him up slow down.

Driver Violates Right of Way
Situation No. 4.—you approach an intersection and have the right of way as another car approaches from the side road. The other driver ignores the rule of right of way or runs a stop sign or ignores a red light. You're right—dead right.

The chances for this accident occurring could have been lessened by:

A—Stepping on the gas to get across the intersection before the other guy.

B—Assuming the other driver will always obey all traffic regulations and courtesies.

C—Approaching the intersection with your foot off the gas pedal and poised over the brake pedal checking traffic in both directions and then yielding even though you have the legal right of way.

D—Slam on your brakes as hard as you can to let the other driver know you are angry.

Someone Passes You

Situation No. 5.—When another driver tries to pass you there are many collision courses. He may cut back in sharply in front of you. You may change lanes just as you or the other driver is trying to pass you on that side.

This kind of accident could possibly be avoided by:

A—Hitting the brakes as hard as you can.

B—Hitting your brakes and pulling off on the shoulder at the right.

C—Reducing your speed thus making it easy for other drivers to pass.

D—Blowing your horn and turning on your lights.

You Pass Another Car

Situation No. 6.—you attempt to pass another car on a two-lane road and suddenly find you can't make it. You risk a side-swipe if you cut back to the right too soon. You risk a head-on crash if you don't.

A crash could probably be avoided by:

B—Speeding up and getting back in the right lane fast.

C—Hitting the brakes and falling in behind the car you are passing.

D—Crowding the white car over.

Q "I'm 49, married, father of two boys, and employed in advertising earning $18,000 a year. I rent an apartment, own a summer home and have $20,000 in cash savings. I should be able to meet all expenses as long as I work but am troubled by the absence of a planned investment program. My only holdings are $2,000 in mutual funds and 100 shares of Peruvian Oils bought at 1½. My chief concern is to amass some capital for my sons' education. What would you advise?" O.M.

A You have certainly made a very intelligent appraisal of your position and I am glad to try to help you. Your mutual fund shares appear satisfactory. Peruvian Oils trades now at only 1½, a you could realize little by selling. Under present conditions I would keep at least $10,000 in the bank as a reserve for contingencies and perhaps a better buying level sometime later.

I would invest $10,000 in equal dollar amounts of fast growth stocks such as Bristol-Myers, RCA and Swingline. As more funds become available, I would continue with the objective of steady, above-average growth, and would add American Hospital Supply, Eutawhous Corp., and Continental Air Lines.

Q "Would you please explain BID, ASK and PREVIOUS BID as associated with mutual funds? When buying or selling, which of the three is used? Which of my stock holdings shall I hold or switch?" S.R.

A You have a generally good list of stocks and mutual fund shares. Bethlehem is a strong issue, but like others in its group, has been subjected to a long cost-price squeeze. I would switch this stock into Scott Paper.

The word BID, when associated with a mutual fund, means net asset value of the shares. The word ASK means net asset value plus sales charge. PREVIOUS BID means net asset value on preceding day. When buying you pay the ASK price.

NASA Half Pleased

With Cape Doings

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Space Agency was pleased today with the transfer of the first test version of the Saturn 5 man-to-the-moon rocket to the launch pad. But it wasn't too happy with the extremely high orbit achieved by the Explorer 32 satellite.

Explorer 32 was hoisted into orbit Wednesday to probe the earth's upper atmosphere. But the failure of the second stage of the Delta rocket to shut off on time shoved the vehicle into an orbit ranging from 180 to 1,688 miles high. It had been aimed at a path of 170 to 750 miles.

All instruments aboard the satellite were working. But officials said it would not be as effective as intended because of the high orbit.

Beacon UR Bugged

Planning of Beacon's urban renewal program has been bogged down and this is hurting the city's chances for federal aid, Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick, (D-Elizaville) said this week. He said communities all over the nation are waiting in line for UR money. The congressman said that when situations arise where the leaders in a community don't want UR aid, it becomes impossible to get. The 28th District congressman is heading a task force of state and federal urban renewal officials coming to the area including Beacon, Poughkeepsie, Hudson and Kingston to inspect the UR project sites.

Move to Soften Objections to Strike Provisions

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Republican leaders of the politically divided Legislature moved today to soften the most controversial provisions in the Republican plan to discourage strikes by public employees.

In an effort to placate Democratic and labor opponents of the GOP program, Senate Majority Leader Earl W. Brydges amended the anti-strike bill offered by Gov. Rockefeller last month.

One amendment would set a limit on fines that could be levied against unions that violate the state's no-strike policy. Fines could not exceed one full year's dues paid by union members.

The second major change would delete a requirement in the Rockefeller bill that all recognition must be withdrawn from a striking union. A union would lose only the privilege of having its members' dues withheld from their pay checks.

Kingston Lions Hear Report on County College

Kingston Lions Club had a most informative and enlightening noon meeting Tuesday at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Guest speaker was Dr. Dale B. Lake, president of Ulster County Community College.

Dr. Lake showed the Lions, colored slides about the development of the college from its present location in Kingston to the 82-acre site in the Town of Marlborough on Cottekill Road just off Route 209. Dr. Lake stressed the poor facilities that the present building and students have to live with. Overcrowding is one of the biggest problems of the college.

Ulster County Community College began its third academic year in September, 1965 with a full time faculty of 30 and part time of 13. Enrolled were a total of 595 full time and 588 part time students.

The Macdonald DeWitt Library during the first two years of operation developed a collection of 15,000 books. Dr. Lake's slides showed the Lions the progress of the new campus. Land has been leveled, footings for the buildings have been poured and the first outlines of the college are now taking shape.

The first phase of construction of the new campus has the financial support of Ulster County and New York State funds, supplemented by a federal grant and a personal gift by college trustee Macdonald DeWitt.

Future developments include:

Start Dodd Depositions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The taking of pretrial depositions begins today in the $5 million libel suit brought by Sen. Thomas J. Dodd against columnists Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson.

In the suit, the Connecticut Democrat accuses the columnists of falsely picturing him as unfit to be a senator, as an agent of foreign interests, as interfering with the award of government contracts in return for bribes, and as unlawfully diverting campaign funds for his own use.
